

THE GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE.

DRUMB & SUTOR, Publishers

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, Wednesday, Sept. 28th, 1910

VOL. XXXVII, NO. 22

Are You Troubled this Way?

Let us prescribe a GARLAND or FAVORITE heater,
All Styles and Sizes.

The Centralia Hardware Co.

A SHOWING of MISSES' ... GARMENTS...

In above illustration we show four garments in Misses' sizes, but you will notice that they are not all girlish styles but that some of them are very well adapted for small women. Whether you buy a Misses' garment or a small woman's garment, if you will come in and examine these and other garments in Misses' sizes you will see how well they become you; it will be necessary of course to select a garment suitable to your style, and if we may add it, your age.

The Notice the label "Palmer" Garment attached to each coat

This is an absolute guarantee of satisfaction, fully maintaining the splendid reputation the makers have enjoyed for years.

No. 1 is made of a tan diagonal cheviot with large satin collar and cuffs, lined with brown satin, finished with braid, fancy buttons and tabs, cut with a panel back and finished at waist line with tabs and buttons, waist and sleeves lined with brown satin, price..... $20.00

No. 3 is a stylish coat of cedar colored cheviot, with a collar of velvet. Pockets of lapels, are inlaid and piped in self-colored velvet and finished with gilt buttons, price..... $12.50

We would appreciate a visit from you and when you come you will find a splendid selection of coats and suits, all of a quality which we are able to fully recommend.

A COMPLETE LINE OF INFANTS' WEAR

JOHNSON-HILL COMPANY

ONE CENT A WORD

WANTED—A girl for general housework. Apply Mrs. W. E. Nash, Port Edwards, Wis.—21

CHILD WANTED—For general housework. Inquire at the home of Mr. L. Williams

WANTED—A girl for general housework. Inquire F. W. Ringer's residence on Third St.

HOUSE FOR RENT—After Oct. 1, 1910 Washburn Ave., inquire of Peter Schmitz, R. 5.

CHICAGO LAND FOR LEASE—Lessor for lessor of the business in the town of Grand Rapids, Illinois $2,000 of cedar shingles. Forty acres of old land are under cultivation and balanced choice timber. For information address Harry Federer at Hotel Harrison.

FOR SALE—Some shooting hunting equipment and outdoor sports in good condition. Can be bought cheap. Call at Tribune offices.

FOOT SALVE—Phantom. First class condition. Will be sold at a bargain. Inquire at Tribune offices.

Market Report.

Parket Flour	$5.80
Rye Flour	4.90
Brown Sugar	20.25
Butter	26.25
Eggs	22
Beef Liver	$3.50
Pepper	$1.50
Hay, Timothy	8.75
Potash	30

D. D. CONWAY

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Law, Trials and Collections. We have $2,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East side, Grand Rapids, Wis. Tel. 338

RAGAN & SHAVER

Undertakers and Licensed Embalmers

Store Phone 313. J. R. Ragan Res. Phone 69. W. H. Shaver Res. Phone 131. Spafford Block, east side. Lady Assistant.

Does Any One Know?

What becomes of all the dogs that are families from barking to death?

A GOOD GRAFTER WITH A SHORT MEMORY

They say that lightning never strikes twice in the same place, but one of our attorneys here in the city can testify to the fact that some other things strike twice in the same spot, whether lightning does or not.

On Thursday said attorney had just gotten down to his office in the morning and comfortably seated and was looking over the morning paper when a man of about fifty years of age hustled in and stated that he had a case against the St. Paul railroad company, which he would like to place in the hands of the attorney provided he had the time and inclination to look after the matter. The attorney asked him to state his case, so the man, who said his name was Martin, said that he was stopping at Neosho, and that he had a son there staying with his father-in-law, and that his son was quite badly hurt last August while at work for the St. Paul railroad company. He said that his son was head brakeman on a freight train and that he was the rear brakeman and that while in the discharge of his duties his son had attempted to climb to the top of a box car, but that the car was old and rotten and that his boy had fallen to the ground in such a manner that the wheels had passed over and severed the fingers of both hands.

According to Dietz's story the whole crowd was against him and consisted of a crowd of hired thugs who had been engaged to do him up by one of the lumber companies.

In view of the fact that the authorities have made no effort to capture him, it looks as if there might be some truth in Dietz's story. When a man is in the wrong it generally does not take long to bring him to justice no matter how much of a fighter he may happen to be.

He stated that his son had been married but that his wife had died, leaving two little girls for the young man to look after, who were with his people at Neosho. He then went into the details of compensation, in case the attorney took the case, and everything was arranged all right in this respect.

The man was about to leave, stating that he would be back on Saturday, and bring his son with him, when he asked the attorney if he did not have a blank note about the place. Being told that there was none and asked what he wanted of it, Martin said that he wanted to borrow ten dollars for ten days, as the company had not paid their men for that month and he was a trifle short of money.

It was just at this time that it began to dawn on Mr. Attorney that he had passed thru a similar experience at some past period in his existence. So he turned to his files and took out an envelope containing a diagram and a cancelled check for ten dollars and asked the man whom he was going to pay back the ten dollars he borrowed two years before when he came into the office with a similar story and drew a diagram and went thru all of the necessary particulars to inspire confidence in his story, at that time giving his name as Howard.

The man seemed to be a bit taken back, but asserted that it was not him that was there before. The attorney, however, told him that if he did not cough up the ten spot he would call an officer, but Martin or Howard did not wait for any further explanation, but immediately left the office. The sheriff was notified, but before he could get on the trail the man had made himself scarce and has not since been seen.

A comparison of the two sketches made by the man show them to be almost identical in every respect, indicating that the man has been working the graft right along, as otherwise, some of the details would have been forgotten in the interval that has elapsed since he was here before. The most remarkable part of the whole transaction is that he would try the graft twice on the same lawyer. It must be that it works so well and he is so safe from prosecution that he does not pay much attention to who he does call on, but just stabs around from one to another, depending on luck not to get into the same office twice. Had it been possible to get an officer promptly on Thursday, it is entirely probable that he would have taken a short vacation from his labors and thus given his victims time to forget him.

John Lindahl brought in a large pumpkin last week that was raised on a part of what is known as the Leefebvre marsh, which Mr. Lindahl has had under cultivation during the past summer. The pumpkin weighs 87 pounds and has been on exhibition in the window of the Centralia Hardware Co.'s store.

A Big Pumpkin.

John Lindahl brought in a large pumpkin last week that was raised on a part of what is known as the Leefebvre marsh, which Mr. Lindahl has had under cultivation during the past summer. The pumpkin weighs 87 pounds and has been on exhibition in the window of the Centralia Hardware Co.'s store.

Notice.

My wife Olive having left my bed and board, I hereby take this method of notifying all persons not to trust her on my account, as I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by her.

Peter Felio.

The Grand Sold.

The "Grand" theater has been sold by the present owners to parties from Racine, who will take charge of the place on Sunday. The present proprietors have made every effort possible to give the public a first class moving picture show in the past.

Ben Hansen has just completed grading up the lawns around the homes of Dr. D. Waters and Emil Rosler. Both jobs are a credit to Mr. Hansen's ability as an artist at this work.

Gardner Block Sold.

A company, of which Taylor & Scott are the agents, have recently purchased the Gardner property on the corner of Second and Oak streets. The property consists of the block on the corner, also 100 feet frontage on Second street which extends thru to Third street.

No definite plans have been formed regarding the property, but it is officially reported that the Masons have been considering the proposition of occupying the entire upstairs of the present block. If this is decided upon the second story will be remodeled so as to be arranged especially for lodge purposes.

The new owners of the property are considering the proposition of erecting a new block just south of the building on the corner, although nothing definite has been done in the matter as yet.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Ladies—Archie, Miss Madeline, card; Eddie, Miss Ruth, card; Billie, Miss Helen, card; Campbell, Mrs. A. B., card; Dimidie, Mrs. Eva; Dorozki, Mrs. W. V.; Draft, Mrs. Robbie, card; Euler, Mrs. C. J.; Getchel, Mrs. E. C., card; Hale, Mrs. Josephine; Hansen, Miss Julia, card; Langenbach, Mrs. A., card; Nelson, Miss Lizzie, card; Rich, Miss E.; St. Amour, Mrs. L. C.; Temple, Miss W. J.; Volkert, Miss Manda, card; Watta, Victoria, card; Wood, Mary.

Gentlemen—Bennett, Ed., card; Boyer, Elsworth, card; Davis, Col.; Leslie, card; Derrickson, Ed., R., card; Dunbar, Clarence, card; Frey, Samford, 2 cards; Harvey, James; Latrever, Mose; Lahti, Morten, card; Lawrence, Elmer J. S.; Melko, Willie; Olson, A.; Olson, Carl; Smith, Edgar; Smith, Master Henry, card; Spidel, Harry.

Damaged by Water.

The roof was removed from the Pomonaville block last Friday in order to put on a new roof, and Friday night a heavy rainstorm occurred, the result being considerable quantity of damaged goods in the drug store of A. G. Otto and the jewelry store of Louis Reitenthal.

The roof was off of only the back end of the building, so that the front of the stores escaped damage. It is figured that the loss will amount to something like $1500.

Store Closed Saturday.

J. T. Schumacher closed his store Saturday night, and since that time has been busy getting what stock he has left packed into shape to ship.

Mr. Schumacher had several locations in sight but decided to move to Mansfield, Ill., where the conditions seem to be especially favorable for the establishment of a good mercantile house such as Mr. Schumacher has operated in the past. Mr. Schumacher expects to get things about ready to move this week.

Rally Day.

Next Sunday will be the big day at the Congregational Sunday school. This is the day when the winter work begins and all the classes are aiming at the black spot in the centre of the target, showing perfect attendance. All the boys and girls from three to ninety years old who ever attended the school will be present on Rally Day. A special program will be carried out so that the lesson study will be omitted. All friends of the school are invited.

Calendar Samples.

If any of our neighbors or friends have neglected to order their calendars for 1911, we wish to say to them that we have a fine line of samples to select from and will be glad to show them what we have. Come and look them over if you need calendars.

Socialist Speech in Polish.

Editor Kowalsky of Milwaukee will deliver a socialist speech in the Polish language at John Porzy's hall in the Fifth ward on Monday evening at 7:30. Mr. Kowalsky is a good speaker and a cordial invitation is extended to all Polish people to attend.

At the democratic convention held at Madison on Tuesday Henry E. Fitch of Neosho was again appointed a member of the State Central committee from this district.

HOWE SCHOOL CLOSED BY SCARLET FEVER

At a meeting of the board of education on Tuesday afternoon it was decided to close the Howe school on the east side until October 10th, and in the meantime all of the books in the building will be burned and the place fumigated.

This action was taken by the board of education for the reason that three cases of scarlet fever have been reported from scholars attending the school this fall, while none has apparently originated from the other buildings. Then again, most of the cases that occurred last year originated apparently from the same building, indicating that the germs of the disease were in the building, and if so there is no other method by which it could be stamped out.

There has been no time when this city had anything like an epidemic of scarlet fever, but the action of the school board in taking such prompt steps to prevent one is to be commended just the same, and the parents of the children who have been attending the school should make an effort to assist the board by not allowing their children to run wild about town during the vacation, so that if they have been exposed to the disease it will be confined to as few persons as it is possible to keep it.

At Waukon, where the disease raged all last winter, it was impossible to stamp it out, owing to the start it obtained before the proper steps were taken. The fact that the disease was rather mild in a majority of the cases made it all the harder to do anything, as in many instances the children were not kept from school and no attempt made to quarantine them. It is only by the cooperation of parents that the matter can be properly handled, and this fact should be borne in mind by the older ones of the community.

PEARS!

We will have in a car-load of Choice Pears for

Canning Purposes

this week, which will be sold very reasonable, considering the scarcity of fruit.

Be sure and take advantage of this chance.

APPLES!

One CarLoad on Track

$1.15 to $1.25 a Bushel

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

"THE RED MILL"

AT DALY'S THEATER - ON WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 5th

THE GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE.

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, Wednesday, Sept. 28th, 1910

VOL. XXXVII, NO. 22

DRUMB & SUTOR, Publishers

Are You Troubled this Way?

Let us prescribe a GARLAND or FAVORITE heater,
All Styles and Sizes.

The Centralia Hardware Co.

A SHOWING of MISSES'... GARNENTS...

In above illustration we show four garments in Misses' sizes, but you will notice that they are not all girlish styles but that some of them are very well adapted for small women. Whether you buy a Misses' garment or a small woman's garment, if you will come in and examine these and other garments in Misses' sizes you will see how well they become you; it will be necessary of course to select a garment suitable to your style, and if we may add it, your age.

The "Palmer" Garment

Notice the label attached to each coat

This is an absolute guarantee of satisfaction, fully maintaining the splendid reputation the makers have enjoyed for years.

No. 1 is made of a tan diagonal cheviot with large satin collar and cuffs, inlaid with brown satin, finished with braid, fancy buttons and tabs, cut with a panel back and finished at waist line with tabs and buttons, waist and sleeves lined with brown satin, price..... $20.00

No. 2 shows a Misses' suit of semi-fitting navy serge, jacket is trimmed with black braid with inlay of black satin on the lapels, lined with rose satin; gored skirts with pleats at side, finished with strap and buttons; a suit that will give remarkable service, price..... $20.00

No. 3 is a stylish coat of cedar colored cheviot, with a collar of velvet. Pockets of lapels are inlaid and piped in self-colored velvet and finished with $12.50 gilt buttons, price..... $12.50

We would appreciate a visit from you and when you come you will find a splendid selection of coats and suits, all of a quality which we are able to fully recommend.

A COMPLETE LINE OF INFANTS' WEAR

JOHNSON-HILL COMPANY

ONE CENT A WORD

WANTED—A girl for general housework. Apply Mrs. W. E. Nash, Port Edwards, Wis.—25.

GIRL WANTED—For general housework. Inquire the name of Geo. L. Williams.

WANTED—A girl for general housework. Inquire F. W. Kruger's residence on Third St.—25.

HOUSE FOR RENT—After Oct. 1, 1910. Washington Avenue, in care of Peter Schmitz, R. 5, Grand Rapids.—25.

CHURCH LAND AT A BARGAIN—An offer for sale 55 acres of the finest land in the town of Grand Rapids, located in the valley of the Muskegon River. All acres of this tract are under cultivation and balance choice timber. For further particulars inquire of Henry Petersen, 501 East Carroll.

FOR SALE—Some shafting, hangers, pulleys and various works in good condition. Can be bought cheap. Call at Tribune office.

Market Report.

Potato Flour.....	$5.80
Bacon.....	4.00
Eggs.....	70
Oats.....	20.95
Butter.....	25.00
Corn.....	20.00
Beef liver.....	20.00
Pork.....	11.00
Pork shoulder.....	11.00
Potatoes.....	1.17

D. D. CONWAY

ATTORNEY AT LAW

Law, Loans and Collections. We have $2,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East side, Grand Rapids, Wis. Tel. 338.

RAGAN & SHAVER

Undertakers and Licensed Embalmers

Store Phone 313. J. R. Ragan Res. Phone 69. W. H. Shaver Res. Phone 141. Spafford Block, east side. Lady Assistant.

Does Any One Know?
What becomes of all the dogs that save families from burning to death?

A GOOD GRAFTER WITH A SHORT MEMORY

They say that lightning never strikes twice in the same place, but one of our attorneys here in the city can testify to the fact that some other things strike twice in the same spot, whether lightning does or not.

On Thursday said attorney had just gotten down to his office in the morning and comfortably seated and was looking over the morning paper and smoking a twenty-five cent cigar, when a man of about fifty years of age bustled in and stated that he had a case against the St. Paul railroad company, which he would like to place in the hands of the attorney provided he had the time and inclination to look after the matter. The attorney asked him to state his case, so the man, who said his name was Martin, said that he was staying at Nekoosa, and that he had a son there staying with his father-in-law, and that his son was quite badly hurt last August while at work for the St. Paul railroad company. He said that his son was head brakeman on a freight train and that he was the rear brakeman and that his son had attempted to climb to the top of a box car, but that the car was old and rotten and that the hand rail had pulled off and that his boy had fallen to the ground in such a manner that the wheels had passed over and severed the fingers of both hands.

According to Dietz's story the whole crowd was against him and consisted of a crowd of hired thugs who had been engaged to do him up by one of the lumber companies. In view of the fact that the authorities have made no effort to capture him, it looks as if there might be some truth in Dietz's story. When a man is in the wrong it generally does not take long to bring him to justice no matter how much of a fighter he may happen to be.

He stated that his son had been married but that his wife had died, leaving two little girls for the young man to look after, who were with his people at Nekoosa. He then went into the details of compensation, in case the attorney took the case, and everything was arranged all right in this respect.

The man was about to leave, stating that he would be back on Saturday, and bring his son with him, when he asked the attorney if he did not have a blank note about the place. Being told that there was none and asked what he wanted of it, Martin said that he wanted to borrow ten dollars for ten days, as the company had not paid their men for that month and was a trifle short of money.

It was just at this time that it began to dawn on Mr. Attorney that he had passed thru a similar experience at some past period in his existence. So he turned to his files and took out an envelope containing a diagram and a cancelled check for ten dollars and asked the man when he was going to pay back the ten dollars he borrowed two years before when he came into the office with a similar story and drew a diagram and went thru all of the necessary particulars to inspire confidence in his story, at that time giving his name as Howard.

The man seemed to be a bit taken back, but asserted that it was not him that was there before. The attorney, however, told him that if he did not cough up the ten spot he would call an officer, but Martin or Howard did not wait for any further explanation, but immediately left the office. The sheriff was notified, but before he could get on the trail the man had made himself scarce, and has not since been seen.

A comparison of the two sketches made by the man show that he almost identical in every respect, indicating that the man has been working the graft right along, as otherwise, some of the details would have been forgotten in the interval that has elapsed since he was here before. The most remarkable part of the whole transaction is that he would try the graft twice on the same lawyer. It must be that it works so well and he is so safe from prosecution that he does not pay much attention to who he does call on, but just stabs around from one to another, depending on luck not to get into the same office twice. Had it been possible to get an officer promptly on Thursday, it is entirely probable that he would have taken a short vacation from his labors and thus given his victims time to forget him.

John Lindahl brought in a large pumpkin last week that was raised on a part of what is known as the LeFevre marsh, which Mr. Lindahl has had under cultivation during the past summer. The pumpkin weighs 57 pounds and has been on exhibition in the window of the Centralia Hardware Co.'s store.

A Big Pumpkin.

John Lindahl brought in a large pumpkin last week that was raised on a part of what is known as the LeFevre marsh, which Mr. Lindahl has had under cultivation during the past summer. The pumpkin weighs 57 pounds and has been on exhibition in the window of the Centralia Hardware Co.'s store.

Notice.

—My wife Olive having left my bed and board, I hereby take this method of notifying all persons not to trust her on my account, as I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by her.

LIBRARY MATTER BEING THOROLY AIRED

John F. Dietz, the outlaw of Cameron dam, is still at large, and no attempt has been made to capture him, notwithstanding the fact that he has visited town several times to get supplies. He comes accompanied by one of his sons, and they are both armed in a manner that is calculated to discourage the faint hearted.

The press throughout the state has had considerable to say about Dietz and his latest trouble, and he has been pretty generally condemned for the shooting of Hotel, and the prediction has been made that he would be apprehended without delay, now that he had actually committed a grave offense. You cannot tell by the looks of a frog how far he can jump. Neither can you tell by the quality or quantity of whiskey a man drinks, whether or not he is in favor of a Carnegie library. In fact, it is rather surprising to find how many of the average run of our citizens are in favor of a new library, and it is just as surprising to have discovered that out of fourteen aldermen present at the last meeting of the council, six of them would vote against the measure.

We do not wish the general public outside of Grand Rapids to imagine that the stand taken by the council indicates the attitude of the people toward a project of this sort, because it does not. Those aldermen who voted against the measure may wheel themselves into imagining that they were representing their constituents, but they are mistaken in this matter, and should extend their acquaintance and find how the general public stands on these matters.

We believe in being somewhat conservative, but not so blinded conservative that nothing is ever accomplished. It may take a bit of money to accomplish things, but even the poorest of us can stand a few cents for library purposes, even though we put in about all the time now kicking about the high taxes.

It is safe to say that when the next vote is taken on the library matter it will be carried, and that there will be several to spare.

A Big Attraction.

—The Red Mill which comes to Daly's Theatre Wednesday, Oct. 5th.

We believe in being somewhat conservative, but not so blinded conservative that nothing is ever accomplished. It may take a bit of money to accomplish things, but even the poorest of us can stand a few cents for library purposes, even though we put in about all the time now kicking about the high taxes.

It is safe to say that when the next vote is taken on the library matter it will be carried, and that there will be several to spare.

To Test the Law.

A dispatch from Madison says it was expected that a petition would be filed with the Supreme court late on Monday asking that body to take original jurisdiction in deciding the constitutionality of the 20 per cent clause of the primary law.

The action will be taken in the name of T. H. Hanna of Stevens Point, who was democratic candidate for the nomination for state senator from the Portage-Waupaca district and failed to secure the required 20 per cent of the votes cast for governor by his party at the last election.

If the court complies with this request the case will be presented formally when the court convenes on Oct. 4, with the hope of a decision before the November election.

The attorneys who will present the case for Mr. Hanna, considered as a test case, are Joseph E. Davies, chairman of the democratic state central committee, and John A. Aylward, with former Justice Dodge of the supreme court as counsel.

The Grand Sold.

The "Grand" theater has been sold by the present owners to parties from Racine, who will take charge of the place on Sunday. The present proprietors have made every effort possible to give the public a first class moving picture show in the past.

Notice.

—My wife Olive having left my bed and board, I hereby take this method of notifying all persons not to trust her on my account, as I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by her.

Peter Felio.

Gardner Block Sold.

A company, of which Taylor & Scott are the agents, have recently purchased the Gardner property on the corner of Second and Oak streets. The property consists of the block on the corner, also 100 foot frontage on Second street which extends thru to Third street.

No definite plans have been formed regarding the property, but it is understood that the Masons have been considering the proposition of occupying the entire upstairs of the present block. If this is decided upon the second story will be remodeled so as to be arranged especially for lodge purposes.

The new owners of the property are considering the proposition of erecting a new block just south of the building on the corner, although nothing definite has been done in the matter as yet.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Ladies, Archie, Miss Mabel, card; Eddie, Miss Ruth, card; Budwell, Miss Helen, card; Campbell, Mrs. A. B., card; Dinwidie, Mrs. Eva; Doroski, Mrs. W. V.; Draft, Mrs. Rollie, card; Elmer, Mrs. C. J.; Getchel, Mrs. E. C., card; Hale, Mrs. Josephine; Hansen, Miss Julia, card; Langenbach, Mrs. A., card; Nelson, Miss Lizzie, card; Rich, Miss E.; St. Amour, Mrs. I. G.; Temple, Miss W. J.; Volkert, Miss Mandie, card; Watka, Victoria, card; Wood, Mary.

Gentlemen, Bennett, Ed., card; Boyer, Elsworth, card; Davis, Col.; Leslie, card; Derrickson, Ed. R., card; Dunbar, Clarence, card; Frey, Stanford, 2 cards; Harvey, James; LaFever, Moses; Laith, Morten, card; Lawrence, Elmer J. S.; McMillie, Willie; Olson, A.; Olson, Carl; Smith, Edgar; Smith, Master Henry, card; Spidel, Harry.

Damaged by Water.

The roof was removed from the Poinainville block last Friday in order to put on a new roof, and Friday night a heavy rainstorm occurred, the result being a considerable quantity of damaged goods in the drug store of A. G. Otto and the jewelry store of Louis Reichen.

The roof was off of only the back end of the building, so that the front of the stores escaped damage. It is figured that the loss will amount to something like $1500.

Store Closed Saturday.

J. T. Schumacher closed his store on Saturday night, and since that time has been busy getting what stock he has left packed into shape to ship.

Mr. Schumacher had several locations in sight but had decided to move to Mansfield, Ill., where the conditions seem to be especially favorable for the establishment of a good mercantile house such as Mr. Schumacher has operated in the past. Mr. Schumacher expects to get things about ready to move this week.

"Rally Day."

Next Sunday will be the big day at the Congregational Sunday school. This is the day when the winters work begins and all the classes are aiming at the black spot in the center of the target, showing perfect attendance. All the boys and girls from three to ninety years old who ever attended the school will be present on Rally Day. A special program will be carried out so that the lesson study will be omitted. All friends of the school are invited.

Calendar Samples.

If any of our neighbors or friends have neglected to order their calendars for 1911, we wish to say to them that we have a fine line of samples to select from and will be glad to show them what we have. Come and look them over if you need calendars.

Socialist Speech in Polish.

Editor Kowalsky of Milwaukee will deliver a socialist speech in the Polish language at John Porzy's hall in the Fifth ward on Monday evening at 7:30. Mr. Kowalsky is a good speaker and a cordial invitation is extended to all Polish people to attend.

At the democratic convention held at Madison on Tuesday Henry E. Fitch of Nekoosa was again appointed a member of the State Central committee from this district.

HOWE SCHOOL CLOSED BY SCARLET FEVER

At meeting of the board of education on Tuesday afternoon it was decided to close the Howe school on the east side until October 10th, and in the meantime all of the books in the building will be burned and the place fumigated.

This action was taken by the board of education for the reason that three cases of scarlet fever have been reported from scholars attending the school this fall, while none have apparently originated from the other buildings. Then again, most of the cases that occurred last year originated apparently from the same building, indicating that the germs of the disease were in the building, and if so there is no other method by which it could be stampeded.

There has been no time when this city had anything like an epidemic of scarlet fever, but the action of the school board in taking such prompt steps to prevent one is to be commended just the same, and the parents of the children who have been attending the school should make an effort to assist the board by not allowing their children to run wild about town during the vacation, so that if they have been exposed to the disease it will be confined to as few persons as it is possible to keep it.

At Wausau, where the disease raged all last winter, it was impossible to stamp it out, owing to the start it obtained before the proper steps were taken. The fact that the disease was rather mild in a majority of the cases made it all the harder to do anything, as in many instances the children were not kept from school and no attempt made to quarantine them. It is only by the co-operation of parents that the matter can be properly handled, and this fact should be borne in mind by the older ones of the community.

PEARS!</h

GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE

GRAND RAPIDS, WIS.

ALIMONY AND DIVORCE.

Now comes a New York woman who is sure to be charged with "woman's inhumanity for woman," professing to be shocked at the multiplicity of divorces and proposing a remedy in the total abolition of alimony, says Omaha Bee. She conceives the prospect of alimony to be the chief cause of divorces granted to women and denounces the system as nothing but a simple graft. Undoubtedly many do signifying women can consistently take no exceptions to these charges, and it is not to be questioned that some unscrupulous lawyers will cooperate with women for the purpose of obtaining financial emoluments through the operation of the divorce courts, but that alimony, or the desire to obtain alimony, constitutes the prevailing cause and purpose of women seeking legal separations from their husbands, it is hard to believe, any more than it would be wise, safe or just to do away with the law providing for alimony. Society has come to recognize that there is such a thing as a justifiable divorce, and there is certainly such a thing as a woman needing and deserving support from the man from whom she seeks and obtains a divorce, and to abolish alimony would work hardship on many women and children, alike, blemishes for the causes as well as the fact of the separation.

Has everybody forgotten Hailley's comet? There was a reaction after the trepidation and intense curiosity aroused by its approach, and now, instead of piling out of bed at unearthly hours of the early morning in the hope of getting a glimpse of it, there are many who would not, for the promise of a good square look at the wonderer, take the trouble of walking across the street. They have seen it once, and so far as they are concerned, it is an old story. Hailley's comet is not beyond viewing; it comes from the earth; yet it cannot be seen. The reason of its invisibility is its nearness to the sun. It sets in the early evening, while the twilight is strong enough to hide it with a veil of light. At the end of the month it will set before sunset. It is further south in the sky than the sun.

The Canadian authorities have been so much disturbed over the report that 15,000 American farmers have left the Canadian northwest that they have undertaken an inquiry of their own. The result of that is the admission that 261 farmers and their families have returned to the United States. During the same time they claim that over 50,000 settlers have entered Canada from this country. Perhaps it is up to the United States to investigate these last figures.

A Louisiana man has patented a combined picket fork and pair of tongs. With the aid of this useful instrument you may, after a picket slips from your fork, reach into the jar and pick it out with the tongs. For our part, we are unable to understand why anyone should wish to take so much trouble for the purpose of curing a pickle.

If it comes to pass that a guard must go with every canoe, encasing will lose its virtue. His chief charm has always been in affording the young man an opportunity to show the girl how he can handle the oars. He will never consent to be followed by a life saver.

One of New York's fashion experts makes the interesting announcement that millionaires are not the best dressed men. The millionaires appear to be bearing up as hopefully as could be expected.

"A hearty laugh is a good thing for indigence," says one of the doctors. In these days the trouble is to find the thing that will provoke a hearty laugh.

One of the ministers candidly announces that automobile scorchers have no chance to go in heaven. But there are probably no automobiles in heaven, anyway.

Why is it so astounding that a man in an aeroplane can go faster than a bird? Doesn't a man on a locomotive go faster than a greyhound or a race horse?

If the cow shows its appreciation of music by giving a bigger yield of milk, why not try the experiment on chickens during the egg fandango?

Aviators seem annoyed because an airship was wrecked by a flag pole. Yet a flag has a right to fly as well as a biplane.

Fears have been expressed that the weather bureau has mislaid the warm wave flag.

Of course, we all intended to travel in Switzerland and Italy this summer, but circumstances send us down to the old farm instead.

A 15-ton shark has been captured near Seattle, but even for Seattle we take it that this is exceptionally big fishing.

See to it that your grocer does not use ambush scales--the kind that lie in weight.

"Baldehead men are not sensible," says Professor Tato. But the bald spots are, in my opinion.

In London rubber has jumped 18 cents a pound. It is hard to keep rubber within bounds.

One sees few overcoats and absolutely no fur-lined garments.

The minister who says there must be baseball in heaven is some fan.

NO CLOUDS IN SIGHT

COLONEL GEORGE HARVEY SAYS COUNTRY ALL RIGHT.

THE WRITER SEES NO CLOUD

Striking Article in North American Review That is Attracting Wide Attention.

The attention of business and professional men in all portions of the country has been attracted to a strikingly strong article by Col. George Harvey in the September issue of the North American Review in which the writer takes a view of the greatest hopefulness for the future of America and Americans. The article is entitled "A Plea for the Conservation of Common Sense," and it is meeting with the cordial approval of business men of all shades of political opinion throughout the entire country. In part, Colonel Harvey says:

"Questionably a spirit of unrest dominates the land. But, if it be true that fundamentally the condition of the country is sound, must we necessarily succumb to despondency, abandon effort looking to retrieval and cringe like cravens before clouds that only threaten? Rather ought we not to analyze conditions, search for causes, find the root of the distress, which even now exists only in men's minds, and then, after the American fashion, apply such remedies as seems most likely to produce beneficial results?"

Capital and Labor Not Antagonistic.

"The link that connects labor with capital is not broken but we may not deny that it is less cohesive than it should be or than conditions warrant. Financially, the country is stronger than ever before in its history. Recovery from a panic so severe as that of three years ago was never before so prompt and comparatively complete. The masses are practically free from debt. Money is held by the banks in abundance and rates are low.

"Why, then, does capital pause upon the threshold of investment? The answer, we believe, is to be plain. It awaits adjustment of the relations of government to business." * * * The sole problem consists of determining how government can maintain its even balance between aggregations of interests, on the one hand, and the whole people, on the other, protecting the latter against extortion and saving the former from mad assault.

"The solution is not easy to find for the simple reason that the situation is without precedent. But is not progress being made along some and cautious lines? * * *

Conservate Common Sense.

"In the present, as we have seen, exceptionally secure? What, then, of preparations for the future? Patriotism is the basis of our institutions. And patriotism in the minds of our youth is no longer ruled solely by feelings and deeds of daring. It is taught in our schools. A new course has been added—a course in loyalty. Methodically, our children learn how to vote, how to conduct primaries, conventions and elections, how to discriminate between qualifications of candidates and, finally, how to govern as well as serve. They are taught to despise bribery and all forms of corruption and fraud and treason. Their creed, which they are made to know by heart, is not complex. It is simple, but comprehensive, no less beautiful in diction than lofty in aspiration. These are the pledges which are gravely upon their memories:

"As it is cowardly for a soldier to run away from battle, so it is cowardly for any citizen not to contribute his share to the well-being of his country. America is my own dear land; she nourishes me, and I will love her and do my duty to her whose child, servant and civil soldier I am.

"As the health and happiness of my body depend upon each muscle and nerve and drop of blood doing its work in its place, so the health and happiness of my country depend upon each citizen doing his work in his place.

"These young citizens are our hostages to fortune. We must not easily assume that the principles animating their lives augur well for the permanency of the Republic? When before have the foundation stones of continuance been laid with such care and promise of durability?

"The future, then, is bright. And the present? But one thing is needful. No present movement is more laudable than that which looks to conservation of natural resources. But let us never forget that the greatest inherent resource of the American people is Common Sense. Let that be preserved and applied with all earnestness, and soon it will be found that all the lists of which we were clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm. He shot through the rapids and into the pool like a fury and was soon being rushed across the great river pocket, having failed to make the outlet as he expected. He swung to the Canadian side and into the driftwood. But from this he hurried away under power. He drove his boat away across to the New York side and swung out of the outlet.

It was about this time that the engine went wrong and he drifted into an eddy near Niagara university below the Devil's hole. As the Ferry swung toward shore it seemed as though it would be beaten on the rocks, but people on shore prevented this and helped Larsen land.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Duan Edy's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen fifteen minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferry, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strife after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm.

Because the engine was put out of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not get clear to Lewiston in the

GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE

GRAND RAPIDS, WIS.

ALIMONY AND DIVORCE.

Now comes a New York woman who is sure to be charged with "woman's inhumanity for woman," professing to be shocked at the multiplicity of divorces and proposing a remedy in the total abolition of alimony, says Omaha Bee. She concedes the prospect of alimony to be the chief cause of divorces granted to women and denounces the system as nothing but a simple graft. Undoubtedly many dissolving women can consistently take no exceptions to these charges, and it is not to be questioned that some unscrupulous lawyers will co-operate with women for the purpose of obtaining financial emoluments through the operation of the divorce courts but that alimony, or the desire to obtain alimony, constitutes the prevailing cause and purpose of women seeking legal separations from their husbands. It is hard to believe, any more than it would be wise, safe or just to do away with the law providing for alimony. Society has come to recognize that there is such a thing as a justifiable divorce, and there is certainly such a thing as a woman needing and deserving support from the man from whom she seeks and obtains a divorce, and to abolish alimony would work hardship on many women and children, alike blameless for the causes as well as the fact of the separation.

Has everybody forgotten Halley's comet? There was a reaction after the trepidation and intense curiosity aroused by its approach, and now, instead of piling out of bed at unearthly hours of the early morning in the hope of getting a glimpse of it, there are many who would not, for the promise of a good square look at the wonderer, take the trouble of walking across the street. They have seen it once, and so far as they are concerned, it is an old story. Halley's comet is not beyond viewing distance from the earth; yet it cannot be seen. The reason of its invisibility is its nearness to the sun. It sets in the early evening, while the twilight is strong enough to hide it with a veil of light. At the end of the month it will set before sunset. It is further south in the sky than the sun.

The Canadian authorities have been so much disturbed over the report that 15,000 American farmers have left the Canadian northwest that they have undertaken an inquiry of their own. The result of that is the admission that 261 farmers and their families have returned to the United States. During the same time they claim that over 50,000 settlers have entered Canada from this country. Perhaps it is up to the United States to investigate these last figures.

A Louisiana man has patented a combined pickle fork and pair of tongs. With the aid of this useful instrument you may, after a pickle slips from your fork, reach into the jar and pick it out with the tongs. For our part, we are unable to understand why anyone would wish to take so much trouble for the purpose of securing a pickle.

If it comes to pass that a guard must go with every canoe, canoeing will lose its vogue. Its quiet charm has always been in affording the young man an opportunity to show the girl how he can handle the oars. He will never consent to be followed by a life saver.

One of New York's fashion experts makes the interesting announcement that millionaires are not the best dressed men. The millionaires appear to be bearing up as hopefully as could be expected.

"A hearty laugh is a good thing for indigestion," says one of the doctors. In these days the trouble is to find the thing that will provoke a hearty laugh.

One of the ministers candidly announces that automobile scorchers have no chance to go to heaven. But there are probably no automobiles in heaven, anyway.

Why is it so astounding that a man in an aeroplane can go faster than a bird? Doesn't a man on a locomotive go faster than a greyhound or a race horse?

If the cow shows its appreciation of music by giving a bigger yield of milk, why not try the experiment on chickens during the egg laying?

Aviators seem annoyed because an airship was wrecked by a flag pole. Yet a flag has a right to fly as well as a biplane.

Fears have been expressed that the weather bureau has mislead the warm wave flag.

Of course, we all intended to travel in Switzerland and Italy this summer, but circumstances send us down to the old farm instead.

A 15-ton shark has been captured near Seattle, but even for Seattle we take it that this is exceptionally big fishing.

see to it that your grocer does not use absurd scales—the kind that lie in weight.

Baldheaded men are not sensitive," says Professor Tate. But the bald spots are, in my time.

In London rubber has jumped 18 cents a pound. It is hard to keep rubber within bounds.

We are more frequently deterred by fear from making an attack than repulsed in the encounter.—Noah Webster.

Women may come and women may go, but a man can always depend upon his mother.

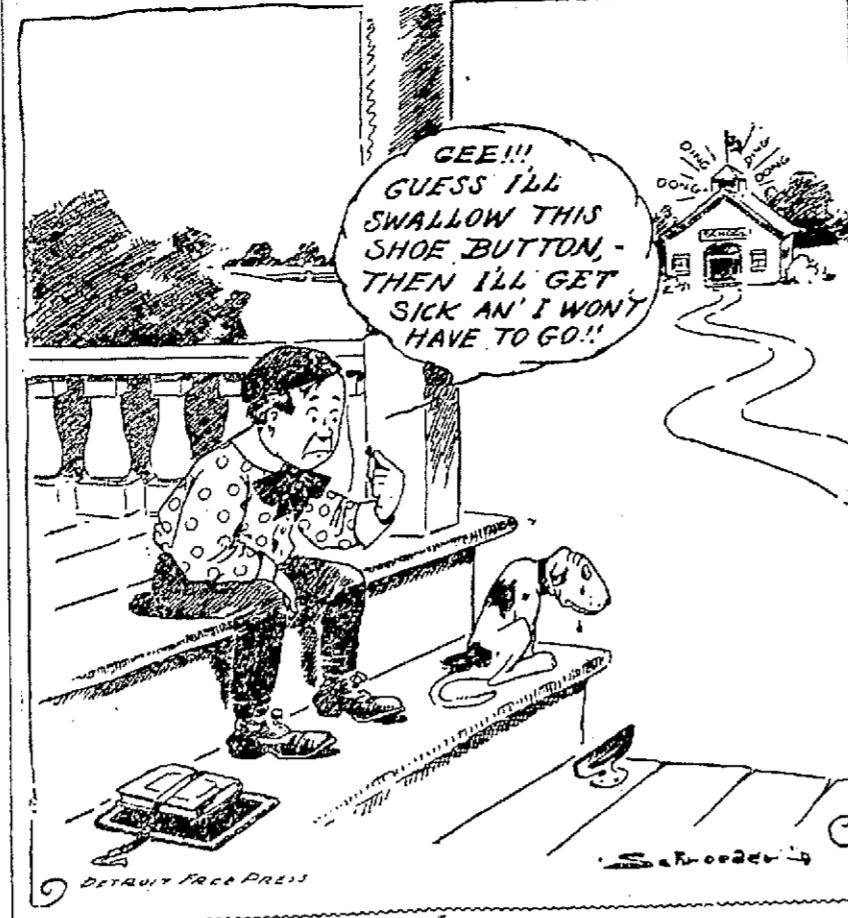

The minister who says there must be baseball in heaven is some fan.

NO CLOUDS IN SIGHT

COLONEL GEORGE HARVEY SAYS COUNTRY ALL RIGHT.

THE WRITER SEES NO CLOUD

Striking Article in North American Review That is Attracting Wide Attention.

GETS PRISON TERM

IS NOMINATED BY REPUBLICANS IN 11TH KENTUCKY DISTRICT.

Served Eight Years in Prison for Complicity in Murder of Governor Gobel.

MUST PAY FINE OF $5,000

Climax in Prosecution of Trust and Employees in New York Is Sentencing of Ex-Secretary—Punished as "Man Higher Up."

Lexington, Ky.—In the primary of the Republicans of the Eleventh congressional district Caleb Powers, who for eight years was a state's prisoner on the charge of complicity in the murder of Gov. William Gobel on the streets of Frankfort January 29, 1900, defeated Don C. Edwards, the present incumbent.

Since Powers was freed by a pardon from Governor Wilson, the mountaineers have stood by him, believing him to be a political martyr and despite all influences that could be brought to bear on him by the followers of Edwards when he returned to New York Sunday evening, to learn that they had not yet been reported.

The indications are that when all returns are received Powers will be nominated by 5,000. Much trouble was had at the polls among the adherents of the two principals and at Grape Vine, Squirt Colwell shot and killed John Holmes. Trouble arose over the election and the killing resulted.

Judge Martin granted a stay of execution of the sentence pending an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals. The court also reduced Helke's bull, which had been $25,000 less than his conviction last June, to $15,000.

Helke's sentence is the climax in the federal government's prosecution of American Sugar Refining company officials and employees, growing out of the extensive wrongdoing of our youth is no longer linked solely with fireworks and deeds of daring. It is taught in our schools. A new course has been added—a course in loyalty. Methodically, our children learn how to vote, how to conduct primaries, conventions and elections, how to discriminate between qualifications of candidates and, finally, how to govern as well as serve. They are taught to despise bribery and all forms of corruption and fraud as treason. They are, while they are made to know by heart, is not complete. It is simple, but comprehensive, no less beautiful in diction than lofty in aspiration. These are the pledges which are graven upon their hearts.

"The solution is not easy to find for the simple reason that the situation is without precedent. But is not progress being made along safe and cautious lines?"

Conserve Common Sense.

"Are not the present, as we have seen, exceptionally secure? What, then, of preparations for the future? Patriotism is the basis of our institutions. And patriotism in the minds of our youth is no longer linked solely with fireworks and deeds of daring. It is taught in our schools. A new course has been added—a course in loyalty. Methodically, our children learn how to vote, how to conduct primaries, conventions and elections, how to discriminate between qualifications of candidates and, finally, how to govern as well as serve. They are taught to despise bribery and all forms of corruption and fraud as treason. They are, while they are made to know by heart, is not complete. It is simple, but comprehensive, no less beautiful in diction than lofty in aspiration. These are the pledges which are graven upon their hearts.

"As it is cowardly for a soldier to run away from battle, so it is cowardly for any citizen not to contribute his share to the well-being of his country. America is my own dear land; she nourishes me, and I will love her and do my duty to her, whether child, servant and civil soldier I am."

"It is the health and happiness of my body depend upon each muscle and nerve and drop of blood doing its work in its place, so the health and happiness of my country depend upon each citizen doing his work in his place.

"These young citizens are our hostages to fortune. Can we not reasonably assume that the principles animating their lives augur well for the permanency of the Republic? When before have the foundation stones of continuance been laid with such care and promise of durability?"

"The future, then, is bright. And the present? But one thing is needful. No present movement is more laudable than that which looks to conservation of natural resources, but let us never forget that the greatest inherent resource of the American people is Common Sense. Let that be conserved and applied without cessation, and soon it will be found that all the ills of which we complain but know not of are only such as attend upon the growing pains of a great and blessed country."

He Knows the Game.

According to the Metropolitan人寿 Fire Chief John Conaway of Jersey City, he solved the baseball excuse given by the posting of the following printed notice on his desk at fire headquarters:

"All requests for leaves of absence owing to grandmothers' funerals, lame back, house cleaning, moving, sore throat, headache, brainstorm, cousins' wedding, general indisposition, etc., must be handed to the chief not later than ten o'clock on the morning of the game."

Shoots Father as a Deer.

Glen's Falls, N. Y.—The first casualty of the Adirondack season has just been reported. Mistaken by his son for a deer, William Aubre was fatally shot Sunday in the mountains near Glens Falls.

Wife and Children Witness Tragedy—Suspect Arrested and is Identified by Victim's Daughter.

Chicago.—Clarence D. Hiller, chief clerk of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway, was shot three times and killed by a negro burglar whom he found ransacking the Hiller home early Monday.

The murder was witnessed by the victim's wife and two daughters, who were aroused when Hiller attacked the intruder at the head of the stairs on the second floor. The men fought for several minutes, finally rolling to the foot of the stairs. The negro fled.

Within half an hour Lieut. Charles M. Atkinson and four detectives were searching the neighborhood and a suspect was arrested. He gave the name of William Jones.

Prominent Educator Dies.

Palo Alto, Cal.—Prof. J. E. Matzke, who held the chair of Roman languages at Stanford university since 1893, is dead in the City of Mexico according to advices received Tuesday from President Wheeler of the University of California. Professor Matzke died of cerebral hemorrhage.

Kaiser Visits Emperor Joseph.

Vienna.—Emperor William arrived here Tuesday and for two days will be the guest of Emperor Francis Joseph at Schoenbrunn.

Ship Wrecked; 15 Missing.

Melbourne, Australia.—The British ship Caron Bay, from Liverpool June 20 for Sydney, has been wrecked on King Island. The captain and seventeen men were picked up Sunday, but a second boat with fifteen men aboard is missing.

Oppose influx of Orientals.

San Francisco.—The Asiatic Exclusion League in a report has criticized the local immigration bureau and insisted that steps be taken to check the influx of orientals.

Turkey and Russia Are Allies.

Columbus, Ohio.—What is believed to be the oldest woman student in the United States was enrolled at the Ohio State University Friday, in the person of Mrs. A. D. Winslow, aged eighty years, of Racine, Wis.

Minor Heir "Comes Back."

Indianapolis.—Minor Heir, the good brown son of Heir at Law, broke another world record at the state fair track Friday, pacing a mile with one runner, for company in 1:55. The former record was 1:56.

Ship's Officer Swept Overboard.

Algiers.—Second Officer Funnell of the steamer Swazi, from New York was swept overboard and lost during a fierce gale on September 4.

Women may come and women may go, but a man can always depend upon his mother.

"SCHOOL DAYS!"

DEFEAT FOR TAWNEY

PACKERS FACE TRIAL NOV. 14

BEEF BARONS SURPRISED IN USE OF SUBPOENAS.

Twenty-five Witnesses Are to Be Summoned—Indictment Men Plan Vigorous Defense.

Chicago.—The trial of the ten meat packers of Chicago indicted on the charge of violating the Sherman antitrust law, will begin November 14. This was made known when deputy United States marshals were handed twenty-five subpoenas with instructions to serve them upon those witnesses who testified before the federal grand jury that brought in the true bills against the beef barons.

The news came as a distinct surprise to the lawyers for the defense. All the subpoenas are returnable on Nov. 14.

It was reported that additional documents will be returned when the jury resumes its sessions next Monday.

Messrs. J. Ogden Armour, the three Swifts, Edward Morris, Edward Thaden and the others under indictment as individuals, have made all of their plans for a vigorous defense and their lawyers say they are ready for the fray at any time. Several consultations have been held and the counsel for the defendants say they can see nothing but an acquittal.

It was rumored in the federal building that the government lawyers, two of whom, Pugin and Wilkerson, are here from the attorney general's department in Washington, are drawing the additional indictments which it is believed will be voted and signed on Monday.

Unusual secrecy has been a feature of the investigation thus far and members of the staff have received special instructions not to discuss present grand jury work upon pain of dismissal.

Secretary marked the issuance of the subpoenas. Many of the government's witnesses will be called from out of town.

FIRE ON RACING BALLOONS

Aviator Baldwin Tells of Reaching Altitude of Three and a Half Miles to Escape Lightning.

New York.—Capt. Thomas Baldwin, the veteran balloonist, was the most astonished man in the country when he arrived in New York Tuesday from Portsmouth, Ohio, where he and Captain D. Harmon landed in the balloon New York Sunday evening, to learn that they had not yet been reported.

Allan P. Hawley and Augustus Post of the American II, which landed at Warrington, Pa., Monday afternoon, were freed upon several times while passing through Ohio.

"We encountered hot sun, cold wind, thunder and lightning, and rain in rapid succession," said Captain Baldwin. "It kept us guessing to manage the ballast under these conditions, and when we dropped Sunday evening at five o'clock, near Portsmouth, Ohio, we had used it all up except a few pounds. Our gas was badly depleted by the constant contrasts of temperature through which we had gone."

"About noon Sunday we encountered one of the worst thunderstorms I have ever seen in the upper air. Only by soaring above it at a height of three and a half miles did we avert the danger of being struck by lightning. At four o'clock Sunday afternoon we found ourselves with hardly a pound of ballast left, and began to look about for a good place to drop. We found such a spot on a hillside near Portsmouth."

Indianapolis.—The last of the thirteen balloons which started in the American championship and free-for-all races at the Indianapolis motor speedway last Saturday afternoon has landed and the greatest balloon meet in history is ended.

"What would you be surprised if I told you that it was the doctor and Miss Elmore?" the witness quoted Miss Elmore as saying. "He was the cause of my trouble when you first knew me. She is his wife, and when I see them go away together it makes me realize my position as to what she is and what I am."

"What is the use of you worrying about another woman's husband?" Mrs. Jackson had asked.

Miss Elmore answered: "Miss Elmore has been threatening to go away with another man. Doctor Crippen has been waiting for her to do so, when he would divorce her."

This would, of course, be merely for the purpose of visiting the Ohio valley exposition, and to attend to some private business. There are also unconfirmed reports in circulation that he will be a party to several important political conferences.

Immediately on his arrival here Tuesday the president was driven to the home of his brother, Charles P. Taft. The latter is in Europe with his family, but his home was thrown open for the accommodation of the president.

Use Auto in Robbery.

San Antonio, Tex.—After robbing coal miners of Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma, who have been on strike for more than five months, returned to work Tuesday, all the mines in the southwest having resumed operation.

150 Hurt in Train Wreck.

Lisbon.—One hundred and fifty persons were injured in a railroad wreck near Oporto Tuesday. The majority were only slightly hurt. One was killed.

Myron W. Whitney Dead.

Sandwich, Mass.—Myron W. Whitney, one of the most popular singers in the country twenty years ago, died at his home here Monday.

Political Shoots His Rival.

Chicago.—Mrs. Anna Belica and two of her children were burned and smothered to death Monday and two remaining children are expected to die following an explosion of gasoline, poured onto a fire to give it a better start in the kitchen of the Belica home.

Ends Walk of 2,500 Miles.

Oklahoma City.—George Palmer reached home here Friday, after a walk of 2,500 miles. He started December 1, 1909, walked to San Francisco, from there to New York and thence back here.

Seeks no Favors of Czar.

London.—A special dispatch from Constantinople says that Oscar S. Straus, the American ambassador to Turkey, abandoned a proposed visit to Russia because he refused to accept the privilege of a passport from the Russian government.

Senator Elkins Ill., is Rumor.

Wheeling.—A well-authenticated report reached here that Senator Stephen B. Elkins is seriously ill at his home, Hallehurst, at Elkins.

Read "The Road to Wellville," found in pgs. "There's a Reason."

He Put Them in the Fire.

The Master of Craven

By MARIE VAN VORST

PICTURES BY CHAS W. ROSSER

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY J. B. PHOTOG. CO.

SYNOPSIS.

Bas Tempest, a poor, disgruntled peddler, has come to his brother, Mr. Basil, in a small village in Craven, in a country home. His situation is deplorable, as shown by the author's pen. Mr. Basil, the master of the house, but more especially a man of means, has now sold his possessions, taken up his abode in a small cottage, and is well off, no more, and as far as he goes. He points his fingers in pride, for, at last, at the age of forty, he has a wife, a young woman with him, and looks forward to a quiet, comfortable life. But Bas Tempest, who is a peddler, has come to him, who is a peddler, and read her in his eyes. Lucy, the girl, is attracted to him, but she is a good girl, who does not like to be unkind to others. She nobly and quickly cleared off a little stand and put it before her, so that when Tempest had thrown himself in a shower of sandalwood water, she could easily get away from him.

"You'll like early supper, sir?" "Yes, when you choose."

"Wouldn't you go and have your bath and get freshened up, Mr. Basil? I've laid out your things." In the good creature's eyes that rested on Tempest, with the respect that decorum demanded, any woman would have seen the mate caros that could never be expressed, as she passed back of him, close to him—she could fancy she held him in her hair.

When, an hour later, Tempest returned to the asylum he had chosen in which to follow out a train of thought whose spell he did not wish broken, a brightened blaze, a bunch of pale violets in a vase beside a tempting little stool already spread its meshes, lay on the floor of his room.

She nobly and quickly cleared off a little stand and put it before her, so that when Tempest had thrown himself in a shower of sandalwood water, she could easily get away from him.

"You'll like early supper, sir?" "Yes, when you choose."

"Wouldn't you go and have your bath and get freshened up, Mr. Basil? I've laid out your things." In the good creature's eyes that rested on Tempest, with the respect that decorum demanded, any woman would have seen the mate caros that could never be expressed, as she passed back of him, close to him—she could fancy she held him in her hair.

He stopped, looked at her, saw her interest, and went on: "I mean to say there will be no more unless this mood continues without interruption."

Still she waited, her face bent a litte

the, her eyes on the roses in her hands.

"That unless I can continue as I have begun, dictate to you, as the inspiration comes, I shall certainly fling the manuscript in the fire."

Miss Carew heard with gratitude the rolling up of the motor car—short as the distance was it had been ordered to take her home. She stood bewildered. His nearness to her, his eyes upon her, overpowered her. She longed to escape, and with no apparent regard to what he so selflessly demanded she took a hurried leave of him.

Tempest, after Miss Carew had gone, walked to and fro in the yellow room; reflecting on her, his eyes still full of the feast of her he allowed himself so freely to make and which she with charming unconsciousness permitted. She was unconscious; there was no doubt of that, otherwise she would not be able to meet his regard with the fine, clear look that made him like her eyes to wells of light. At the smile he put his hands over his own that burned and stung.

"If I could only steep them in those cool depths, bathe them there, kindle their torch, as my mind's torch has been reft," Henry, he ordered, when the housekeeper appeared in answer to the bell he had rung, "what would he do?"

"Yes, Mr. Basil"—as she would have said if he had expressed the intention of dining on the Trafalgar mount.

"And serve me yourself, will you? Put a few things on a tray, you know, and clear off a little table. Don't let a servant come near me."

"No, Mr. Basil." She looked furiously about the gay box of a room as if, in spite of her eyes, which had been reft. Henry, he ordered, when the housekeeper appeared in answer to the bell he had rung, "what would he do?"

"Otherwise, God knows how desolate it would have left me," he said aloud, and with the word smiled a little and shivered. "Not that I am not desolate as it is, but my new folly has smoothed the way for the exit of the old. That's about all."

He sat brooding—brooding—until Henry, venturing, came softly in to ask if he wanted anything more.

"Henry!" "Yes, Mr. Tempest?" "I fetched you a stool to-day, could you sharpen it into a pencil for me, to do think?"

She smiled tenderly. "Ah, no better than in those days, I'm afraid, Mr. Basil."

"Never mind. But if you knew how I've lunged and needled those pencils! Made for me by another—put in my

ORATORY TO FIGURE IN STATE CAMPAIGN

Will Be Largely a Contest of Orators.

NOMINEES TO TAKE STUMP

Heads of Both Republican and Democratic Tickets and Probably the Other Candidates Will Spend Much Time Speaking.

MADISON.—The coming campaign in Wisconsin will be largely a contest of orators.

The heads of both the Republican and Democratic tickets and probably the other candidates on the tickets will spend practically all the time speaking on the stump.

Frances E. McTigue and Thomas Morris, Republican candidates respectively for governor and lieutenant governor, are arranging their affairs so as to begin their speaking tours as soon as possible after the state committee begins its work.

The Democratic state central committee expects to have the assistance of many Democratic orators of national reputation in this campaign. Southern Democrats who have no opposition at home are preparing to enter the campaign in doubtful states and it is expected that Wisconsin will be invaded by many of these speakers.

To Operate on La Follette.

Senator La Follette is suffering from gallstones and has been advised by his family physician to consult a specialist regarding the ailment. His family has urged him to go to Rochester, Minn., and see the Mayo brothers' surgeons. He will probably do so soon, but has not yet reached a definite decision. He is reluctant to submit to a surgical operation until after the general election in November, when it will be absolutely decided whether a majority of the members of the next legislature will be favorable to his reelection.

The senator has been suffering from gallstones for several years and has been under the care of a physician for the trouble. There has for some time been a close alliance between the conservatory and the university, in that several of the conservatory teachers have been members of the musical organizations of Marquette. Marquette has an orchestra, band and mandolin club; and Henry Wissauer, professor of violin in the conservatory, has been director of the band and orchestra for several years. W. C. Stahl, another conservatory instructor, has been director of the university glee club for the past ten years.

Under the arrangements by which Marquette acquires a musical department, Father Henman becomes the faculty regent of the university's musical college; J. H. Frank becomes dean, with Dr. L. F. Frank as associate dean and secretary. W. H. Upmeyer remains as treasurer, and Mrs. M. Oberholzer will continue as assistant secretary. The board of directors will be: Wilhelm Middelschulte, Chicago; Louis G. Stumm, Mrs. Norman Hoffman, Katherine Clark, Ludwig H. Wrangell, Lillian Watts and Edith Rosewell.

The Wisconsin conservatory was organized 11 years ago, with J. H. Frank and Doctor Frank as the chief officials.

Hedger Arguments Ended.

Arguments by the state in the action, based upon a writ of error, to secure a new trial for Ward E. Hedger, who was sentenced to life in Waupun for the murder of his wife, occupied the attention of the supreme court. Norman L. Baker, assistant district attorney of Milwaukee county, presented his arguments in refutation of those advanced by the attorneys for the defense.

Mr. Baker insisted that the domestic life of Mr. and Mrs. Hedger was not ideal, as painted by Attorney Guy E. Goff, appearing for Hedger, and he also presented facts and circumstances to the court which he thought had a bearing on the "motive" in the case. Mr. Baker declared that Hedger drank whisky excessively, although to all outward appearances he was not a heavy drinking man. He said that this bothered Mrs. Hedger and he said that this was evidence to show that she commented upon this subject to friends. In discussing the subject of "motive," Mr. Baker contended that there was trouble between Mr. and Mrs. Hedger over financial matters.

Receipts Will Cover Expenses.

"It is the best state fair we have ever had. Financially, we will at least break even, and we may do even better than that."—President George McGeorge.

Election Expense Blanks Out.

"Blanks for the filing of election expenses are being mailed to the candidates for state offices by the secretary of state. The statute requires that statements of expenses incurred during the campaign be filed within thirty days after election."

City's Interests Come First.

The state railroad rate commission laid down the rule that in selecting a route for a railroad within a city, the interests of the whole city, particularly with reference to future growth, are to determine the route, rather than present work like it.

"It happened that one evening, when the Twins had the Warner's at a family dinner, something was sold beyond all expectation for a while, and then, suddenly, the sales stopped. It was the one dead failure among Mark Twain's works. Yet a sufficient large number of copies were sold by subscription to repay the cost of manufacture and return some profit to the joint authors and the publishers.

"Later, however," continued Mr. Hubbard, "Mark Twain made a tidy sum out of the dramatic rights of the book. About the time that the book was to be published he suggested to Mr. Warner that he would buy whatever dramatic rights that Warner might have in the work. The idea appealed to Mr. Warner, and I have always understood that Mark Twain paid him $8,000 or thereabouts for his share of the dramatic rights and with that money Mr. Warner was able to make a long winter tour through Egypt. As for Mark Twain, he made thousands in royalties out of the play based on his utterly dead book."

(Copyright, 1910, by E. J. Edwards.)

Mark Twain and Warner Wrote It to Show Their Joking Wives Just What They Could Do When They Tried.

The late Stephen A. Hubbard, who was for many years the managing editor and one of the owners of the Hartford (Conn.) Courant when Joseph R. Hawley was editor and Charles Dudley Warner, the author and humorist, co-editor, told me this, the real story of the manner in which Mark Twain and Mr. Warner came to write "The Gilded Age," which was published in 1873.

"After Mark Twain came to Hartford to live," said Mr. Hubbard, "he made the acquaintance of Mr. Warner, being especially attracted to him because of the success of the delectably humorous book, 'My Summer in a Garden,' which gained Mr. Warner national fame, and which was the first of his separate writings. The acquaintance ripened into intimacy, and the families of the two men were frequently together.

"It happened that one evening, when the Twins had the Warner's at a family dinner, something was sold beyond all expectation for a while, and then, suddenly, the sales stopped. It was the one dead failure among Mark Twain's works. Yet a sufficient large number of copies were sold by subscription to repay the cost of manufacture and return some profit to the joint authors and the publishers.

"Later, however," continued Mr. Hubbard, "Mark Twain made a tidy sum out of the dramatic rights of the book. About the time that the book was to be published he suggested to Mr. Warner that he would buy whatever dramatic rights that Warner might have in the work. The idea appealed to Mr. Warner, and I have always understood that Mark Twain paid him $8,000 or thereabouts for his share of the dramatic rights and with that money Mr. Warner was able to make a long winter tour through Egypt. As for Mark Twain, he made thousands in royalties out of the play based on his utterly dead book."

(Copyright, 1910, by E. J. Edwards.)

Misjudged Brilliant Son.

Lord Ampthill once found Bismarck reading Anderson's story on the Ugly Duckling, which relates how a duck hatched an swan's egg, and how the cygnet was feared at by his putative brethren, the ducklings, until one day a troop of lordly swans, floating down the river, saluted him as one of their race. "Ah," observed Bismarck, "it was a long time before my poor mother could be persuaded that that ugly duckling she had not produced a goose."

But as soon as the prince had flung with his mail and returned to the deck, I related to him how I had been misinformed for him. And the story amused him greatly—not in the sense that it was an absurdity that I should be taken in by the prince, which he seemed to see in his mind's eye a vivid picture of that great throng halting a plain citizen of the United States as the prince of Wales."

(Copyright, 1910, by E. J. Edwards.)

John M. True's Majority 1,170.

John M. True, secretary of the state board of agriculture, defeated C. F. Mohr in the primary election contest in the Twenty-seventh district for the Republican nomination for state senator, by a vote of 2,952 to 2,812, a majority of 1,170, according to official returns. The district comprises the counties of Columbia and Saugus and Mr. True carried both counties, with 539 and the latter by 530.

In the Third senatorial District Senator Isaac T. Hopper defeated Charles H. Everett, 3,656 to 2,819.

Pensions for Badgers.

The following list of pensions recently granted to Wisconsin pensioners is unseemly and "cracking of thorns under a pot," he said. "We'll get together and write a story, chapter by chapter every morning, and we will see into interwoven our work that these wives of ours will not be able to say which has been written by Mark Twain and which by Charles D. Warner."

"You've got the silver here?" gasped the stranger. "You're going to pay me in silver on the spot?"

How "Gilded Age" Was Done.

Mark Twain and Warner Wrote It to Show Their Joking Wives Just What They Could Do When They Tried.

The late Stephen A. Hubbard, who was for many years the managing editor and one of the owners of the Hartford (Conn.) Courant when Joseph R. Hawley was editor and Charles Dudley Warner, the author and humorist, co-editor, told me this, the real story of the manner in which Mark Twain and Mr. Warner came to write "The Gilded Age," which was published in 1873.

"After Mark Twain came to Hartford to live," said Mr. Hubbard, "he made the acquaintance of Mr. Warner, being especially attracted to him because of the success of the delectably humorous book, 'My Summer in a Garden,' which gained Mr. Warner national fame, and which was the first of his separate writings. The acquaintance ripened into intimacy, and the families of the two men were frequently together.

"It happened that one evening, when the Twins had the Warner's at a family dinner, something was sold beyond all expectation for a while, and then, suddenly, the sales stopped. It was the one dead failure among Mark Twain's works. Yet a sufficient large number of copies were sold by subscription to repay the cost of manufacture and return some profit to the joint authors and the publishers.

"Later, however," continued Mr. Hubbard, "Mark Twain made a tidy sum out of the dramatic rights of the book. About the time that the book was to be published he suggested to Mr. Warner that he would buy whatever dramatic rights that Warner might have in the work. The idea appealed to Mr. Warner, and I have always understood that Mark Twain paid him $8,000 or thereabouts for his share of the dramatic rights and with that money Mr. Warner was able to make a long winter tour through Egypt. As for Mark Twain, he made thousands in royalties out of the play based on his utterly dead book."

(Copyright, 1910, by E. J. Edwards.)

A Story of General Grant.

How the Famous Soldier-President Responded to a Distracted Woman's Plea.

Mrs. Louisa Boggs, an eighty-six-year-old resident of St. Louis, tells the following story of Gen. U. S. Grant, who was her cousin and whose memory she lovingly cherishes. The story is being passed around in Washington.

"Julia Dent, the general's wife, was a southern girl, you know. Her family lived just west of Jefferson Barracks, south of St. Louis, and while stationed there Lieutenant Grant met and fell in love with her. Julia was a girlhood friend whom I will call Mittle. They grew up together, warm-hearted and loving. Their tastes, accomplishments and ambitions were much alike. Both married soldiers. Mittle's husband cast his fortunes with the south and rose to the rank of general. When the southern cross began to go down before the far-reaching sweep of the northern armies, Mittle received the news that her husband had been wounded. She was wild to go to him, but the cordon was drawn tight around Dixieland; it was hard to get through. Learning that Mrs. Grant was at our house in St. Louis, the wife of the southern soldier hastened there to implore her girlhood friend to do what she could to get her through.

The wife of a soldier herself, Mrs. Grant understood to the depth of her sympathetic soul the terrible anxiety of her friend, but even she was unable to find the way. By rare good fortune, however, General Grant came to St. Louis about that time. He listened quietly while the distraught young woman told of her message from the south, she should reach her husband's side at once, be the danger what it may.

You can imagine what such a plea meant to a soldier like Grant. To him the woman in the hospital, on the field where the battle had been, was as a saint, as resplendent as an angel. His eyes glinted as he sat down at a table and picked up a pen. He wrote her an order that would carry her through the lines with great deference as would have been shown the president. Not only that, but he gave her a great roll of Confederate money—the sort used in the south.

"Take this," he said, briefly; "I hope you'll find — getting along all right; and then he left the room."

Even the Chair Groaned.

Young Doctor (in evident embarrassment)—"My dear Miss Clara, I—believe I have formed an attachment and—

Miss Clara (blushing furiously)—Oh, Arthur—I mean, Mr. Greene—this is so sudden! I must—

Young Doctor (frantically)—Beg pardon, Miss Clara, but I was about to say that I have formed an attachment to this chair, due to the presence of a bit of cobble's wax placed here by that unregenerate young brother of yours.

And even the chair groaned in sym-

New News of Yesterday

by E. J. Edwards

Story of United States Bank

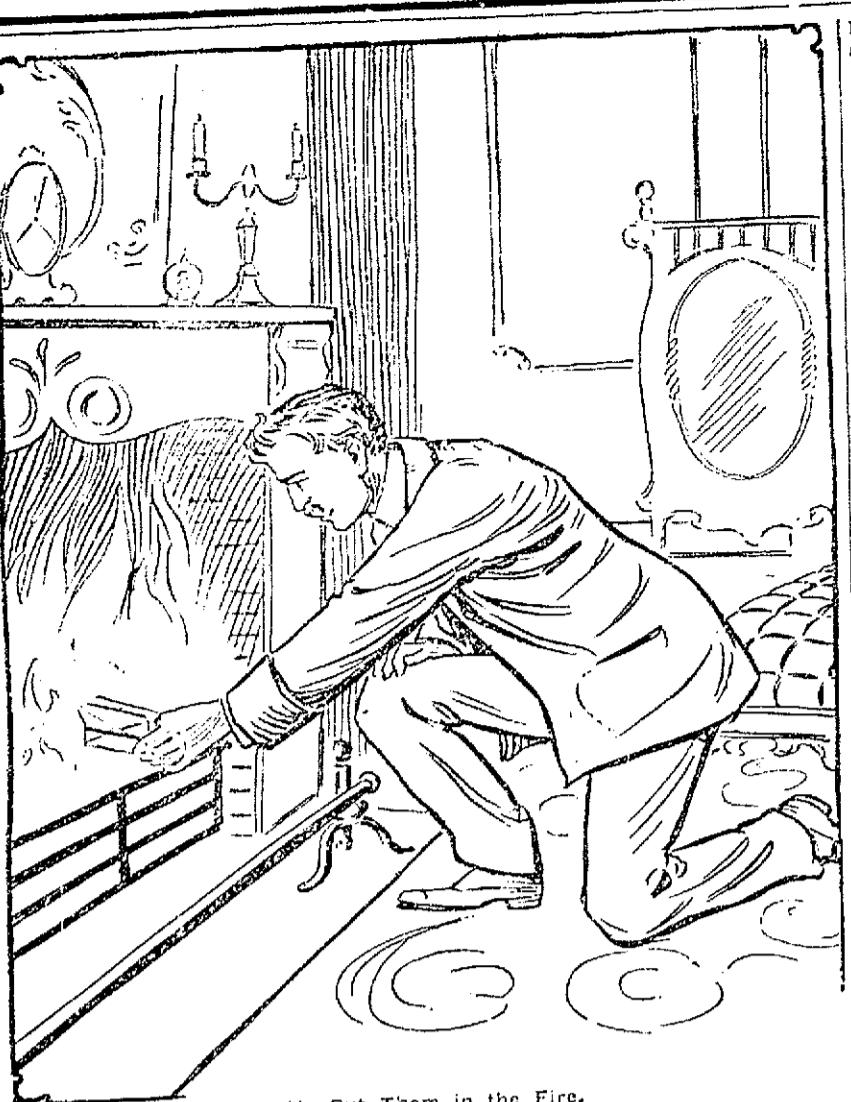

"Certainly," said the bank manager. "Don't that what you asked for?" "But—" "I'm the stronger."

"You'll call the other two hundred thousand dollars in silver and checked plot."

The most famous president of the United States bank, which President Jackson forced out of business, was Nicholas Biddle of Philadelphia, who after being a director of the bank for a matter of four years, became its president in 1822 and remained in that post until the bank went out of business in 1836.

The stranger, however, was the weaker.

"You will take it to vessel?"

He Put Them in the Fire.

The MASTER of CRAVEN

By MARIE VAN VORST

PICTURES BY CHAS W. ROSSER

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY J.B. LIPPINCOTT CO.

SYNOPSIS.

dubbed it, seemed suddenly to have become very sweet indeed:

"You're fagged out with the long trip, sir. It's too much for a day, isn't it?"

"It's enough to spare. I shall rest here. I want never to see London again." He had said this before and it did not dismay her.

She noiselessly and quickly cleared off a little stand and put it before the divan where Tempest had thrown himself.

"You'll like early supper, sir?"

"Yes, when you choose."

"Wouldn't you go and have your bath and get freshed up, Mr. Basil? In the Eve laid out your things?"

"I've laid out your things!"

"I've laid out your things?"

Grand Rapids Tribune

BY DRUMB & SUTOR.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Sept. 28, 1910

Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids, Wis., as second-class mail matter.

Advertising Rates.—For display matter a flat rate of 10 cents an inch is charged. The columns in The Tribune are 24 inches wide, making a one column advertisement cost $2.40 for one insertion. All local notices, cards of thanks, resolutions of respect, and all notices of entertainments where an admission fee is charged will be published at 5 cents per line.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One Year.....$1.50
Six Months.....75

Republican Logic.

The Merrill Herald says that if the democratic party were elected to office they would proceed to repeal the primary election law and give away the water power.

We wonder just which water powers the democratic party would give away. If Mr. Johnson will kindly name half a dozen water powers that the democratic party would give away it might be of benefit to some of us, as a water power is quite a valuable asset in Wisconsin since the high tariff on lumber has caused all of the timber to be skinned off in the state. The timber, by the way, was not given away: most of it was stolen.

Most of the water powers we know of along the Wisconsin river are already owned by private individuals and the power is being used to produce tariff-protected paper, and the men who own them are mostly republicans and they are seeing to it that nothing is done to deprive them of their rights.

As to the repeal of the primary law, that is a matter that would be up the will of the majority. It was a democratic measure in the first place, and opinion is now divided as to whether it is a good or a bad law.

It is a matter of fact that all of the so-called progressive mongrels which are being advocated by Mr. LaPolletto and his followers, are democratic measures, and most of them have been advocated by the democratic party for years. They are good things and they have been adopted by the progressive branch of the republican party because their own party policy became so rotten that they could not stand it any longer. We do not blame them for adopting democratic measures, for they are about the only thing that there is left for anybody to believe in.

This man Johnson, who runs the Merrill Herald, seems to have lost his grip on the truth: that is, he seems to have become mentally biased since he lost the postoffice, and no stab about from one thing to another without any regard to truth or decency. He now has two libel suits on his hands for having accused his fellow townsmen of scurrilous acts.

Quer what effect it has on some man when they find they cannot hold a soft job forever.

When Merit Wins.

When the medicine you take cures your disease, tones up your system and makes you feel better, stronger and more vigorous than ever. That is what Foley Kidney Pills do for you, in all cases of backache, headache, nervousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness and general weakness that is caused by any disorder of the kidneys or bladder. Sold by Johnson & Hill Co. and J. E. Daly.

Feed the Mousers.

The man who cannot enjoy the antics of a pair of kittens must have something wrong with his make-up; and the one who would carry them off, and "drop" them on the road for others to feed, deserves the bad luck that is sure to follow. Feed the little mousers.—Farm Journal.

NEKOOSA. (From the Times.)

PITTSVILLE.
(From the Record.)
L. G. Rose of Klondike, has bought the Wendland blacksmith shop in this city and has opened the same up to trade. He is a blacksmith and horsehoeer of many years experience. Note his ad in another column. The family have moved into the old Schlegel house and will remain there until Mrs. Wendland finds a house to move into.

The populace who were on the streets of the city last Saturday evening received a scare when it was reported that a workman on the bridge had suffered from the fall of a timber on him. The report was that the prompt appearance of the fire department prevented serious damages though the fire had a good start when discovered.

It is supposed to have originated from a cigar stub, match or the emptying of a pipe in the space between the sidewalk and the building.

At about ten o'clock last Friday morning a fire broke out under the front of Wm. Hooper's store, but the prompt appearance of the fire department prevented serious damages though the fire had a good start when discovered.

It is supposed to have originated from a cigar stub, match or the emptying of a pipe in the space between the sidewalk and the building.

A surprise "shower" was given at the home of Mrs. J. Gauthier last Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Margaret Richmond. There was a large attendance of ladies who enjoyed the evening and left a fine collection of household articles for Miss Richmond's future use.

The auction sale at the Thomas Lynch farm yesterday was one of the most successful ever held in this locality practically everything offered for sale being disposed of. Mr. and Mrs. Lynch will leave shortly for Waterloo, Iowa, where Mr. Lynch will buy and ship live stock.

Robert Bobper has purchased the brick ware house on the C. M. & St. P. right of way of L. Starka and has begun moving his grist mill machinery into the new location.

Misses Margaret and Bessie Richmond entertained a number of their friends at a "quilting bee" at their home last Saturday afternoon. Refreshments were served.

F. G. Gahl of Port Edwards is suffering from an attack of facial paralysis which developed last week. Mr. Gahl is a stockholder in the Port Edwards Mercantile Co. at Port Edwards and manager of the store. He was formerly located in Nekoosa and worked for Wm. Hooper.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Bright's Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea and constipation, and should be taken after the first unnatural looseness of the bowels.

It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Grand Rapids Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

—DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Donn's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here is proof in the statement of a nearby resident.

Mrs. O. A. Neuman, 410 Division St., Stevens Point, Wis., says: "I suffered from a lame and weak back for several years. My kidneys were also weak and the secretions from these organs were very unusual and irregular in passage. On a friend's advice, I procured Donn's Kidney Pills and began their use. The results were gratifying and I gladly give this remedy my endorsement."

Sold by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Fester-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N.Y., solo agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Donn's—and take no other.

Deepest Hours of Sleep. The period of deepest sleep varies from 3 to 5 o'clock.

ARPIN.

Carl Johnson of Sigel visited Wednesday at the Robert Morris home. A few of the ladies very pleasantly surprised Mrs. Otto Krause at her home Thursday afternoon, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. The ladies took some good things to eat along with them and about five o'clock a delectable lunch was served which was enjoyed by all.

Henry Osenga, who is learning telegraphy at Springfield, Ill., is spending a few days with his parents here.

A. J. Cowell was a Marshfield caller Saturday.

Wm. Blaett spent Saturday at Marshfield.

The Robert Morris family have been ill this week, but is somewhat improved now. Nurse Brigham of Bethel is taking care of them.

Rev. L. C. Smith of Waukesha preached a very interesting sermon at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Quite a crowd was in attendance.

Miss Mary LaVigne visited at Grand Rapids Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Blinn were Sherry callers Wednesday.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Stanley Selsor departed on Friday for Madison to enter the university.

Mrs. Severt Johnson visited with relatives in Cramoor over Sunday.

Warren Fisher spent the past week in White Rose visiting with relatives.

A twelve pound girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Baldwin on Friday.

Ellie Grottoen of Marshfield was a business visitor in the city on Monday.

Louis Lyonnais departed on Sunday for a weeks visit with relatives in Green Bay.

Albert Benson purchased a home on 11th street last week of Adolph Hunter. Consideration $1800.

Ed Kruger of Grammer was in the city on Saturday attending to some business matters.

Miss Anna Menier returned on Saturday from a month's visit with relatives in Canada.

—Don't be fooled. H. W. Barker's Gough Remedy made at Sparta cures John & Hill Co.

W. A. Brazeau spent several days in the city last week visiting with relatives in Chicago and Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mr. Edward Lynch returned on Saturday from Tomahawk where he had been visiting with friends during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Neitzel returned the past week from a three weeks visit at the Club Appel home in the town of Sunica.

Mrs. L. P. Wollensteller visited friends and relatives in Stevens Point several days last week. She returned home on Thursday.

Julius Mathews of the town of Sigel returned on Thursday from a two weeks visit with relatives in Milwaukee, Chicago and Hammond, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fay returned on Monday from Sturgeon Bay where they had been spending a week with their daughter, Mrs. H. R. Isherwood.

Ernest McFarland has been a trifle under the weather as the result of a sprained ankle. Mr. McFarland resumed his studies at the University this week.

Alex Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jones, who has been employed in the east the past year, will enter Columbia College next month to take up the study of law.

Bart and Floyd Palmer of Fond du Lac spent last week in this city, having been called here to attend the funeral of their father. They departed for their home on Saturday.

Adolph Paulow, editor of the Marshfield Demokrat, was in the city for a few hours on Saturday looking after some business matters.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet next Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. K. A. McDonald. Election of officers.

Miss Emma Swain returned to La du Flambeau Saturday after spending a week in the city visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Swain.

Andrew Clavin of Bimiji, Minn., was in the city on Thursday and Friday of last week visiting with friends. The Tribune acknowledges a pleasant call.

Hubert Wusow, one of the building young farmers of the town of Sigel, favored this office with a pleasant call on Saturday while in the city on business.

Clara Klevene, secretary of the Seneca, Sigel & Rudolph Mutual Fire Insurance Co. was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday while in the city on business.

—FOR SALE.—The Harverson home on Elm St. Now, elegantly finished. Has electric lights, sewer, city water, bath. See owner or J. H. Linderman. Phone 117.

Rev. Patterson of Ephraim has been in the city the past week the guest of Rev. H. B. Johnson. Rev. Patterson was formerly pastor of the German Moravian church in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Peyruso are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl at their home last week. Mrs. Peyruso was quite sick for several days but has since materially improved in health.

Ed Daly of Ellington, S. D., was in the city Saturday visiting his friends, having come here with his mother, Mrs. John Daly, who had been visiting him at Ellington. Mr. Daly returned to his home on Sunday.

O. W. Dodge spent several days in this city the past week visiting his family and attending to some business matters. Mr. Dodge has been out at Spokane where he is interested in a new paper mill that will be built there.

G. J. Kaudy returned on Monday from Duluth, having spent a week past up in the iron country. He reports that business is good up in that country and that he secured a lot of new work for the Kaudy Mfg. Co.

John Hammer, who has been employed in a printing office at Barnboro for several months, spent Saturday in the city visiting with his parents before leaving for Oconomowoc where he will learn to operate a linotype.

Mrs. Archie McMillan returned on Wednesday from Pine River, where she had been spending a couple of weeks with her aged father, who was quite sick. Recent advices from there, however, state that the old gentleman is considerably better.

—Very profitable food for thought will be found in this week's ad of the First National Bank. Those receiving a salary at stated times, can make themselves independent, financially, by availing themselves of the facilities offered by the bank, and it doesn't require a large salary either.

W. H. Guilford, principal of the Nekoosa school, has announced his candidacy for the office of county superintendent which is voted on at the next spring election. At this time no other announcements have been made, so it is not known whether there will be any other aspirants for the office or not.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Miller on Thursday.

Mrs. J. E. Schindel and children are visiting with relatives in Neenah this week.

Mr. F. P. Daly left on Sunday night for Chicago to be absent a few days on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred LaBrot spent Sunday in Aldorf visiting at the Fred Remsch home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dolan spent Sunday at Waunau visiting at the Dan McKerev home.

Miss Fern Blattley of Sturgeon Bay has been visiting relatives and friends in this city during the past week.

M. Weeks, C. F. Kellogg, and Sam Church left Tuesday morning for Milwaukee to attend the automobile races.

Mrs. Hattie Brandon and grandson, Chas. Huntley of Winona, Minn., are guests at the J. J. Paterick home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gottzloff and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eberhardt spent Sunday in Amherst visiting with relatives.

Mrs. Ed. Fahl and Miss Agnes Nash departed on Monday for a visit with relatives in Chicago and Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mr. Edward Lynch returned on Saturday from Tomahawk where he had been visiting with friends during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Neitzel returned the past week from a three weeks visit at the Club Appel home in the town of Sunica.

Mrs. L. P. Wollensteller visited friends and relatives in Stevens Point several days last week. She returned home on Thursday.

Julius Mathews of the town of Sigel returned on Thursday from a two weeks visit with relatives in Milwaukee, Chicago and Hammond, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fay returned on Monday from Sturgeon Bay where they had been spending a week with their daughter, Mrs. H. R. Isherwood.

Ernest McFarland has been a trifle under the weather as the result of a sprained ankle. Mr. McFarland resumed his studies at the University this week.

Alex Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jones, who has been employed in the east the past year, will enter Columbia College next month to take up the study of law.

Bart and Floyd Palmer of Fond du Lac spent last week in this city, having been called here to attend the funeral of their father. They departed for their home on Saturday.

Adolph Paulow, editor of the Marshfield Demokrat, was in the city for a few hours on Saturday looking after some business matters.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet next Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. K. A. McDonald. Election of officers.

Miss Emma Swain returned to La du Flambeau Saturday after spending a week in the city visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Swain.

Andrew Clavin of Bimiji, Minn., was in the city on Thursday and Friday of last week visiting with friends. The Tribune acknowledges a pleasant call.

Hubert Wusow, one of the building young farmers of the town of Sigel, favored this office with a pleasant call on Saturday while in the city on business.

Clara Klevene, secretary of the Seneca, Sigel & Rudolph Mutual Fire Insurance Co. was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday while in the city on business.

—FOR SALE.—The Harverson home on Elm St. Now, elegantly finished. Has electric lights, sewer, city water, bath. See owner or J. H. Linderman. Phone 117.

Rev. Patterson of Ephraim has been in the city the past week the guest of Rev. H. B. Johnson. Rev. Patterson was formerly pastor of the German Moravian church in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Peyruso are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl at their home last week. Mrs. Peyruso was quite sick for several days but has since materially improved in health.

Ed Daly of Ellington, S. D., was in the city Saturday visiting his friends, having come here with his mother, Mrs. John Daly, who had been visiting him at Ellington. Mr. Daly returned to his home on Sunday.

O. W. Dodge spent several days in this city the past week visiting his family and attending to some business matters. Mr. Dodge has been out at Spokane where he is interested in a new paper mill that will be built there.

G. J. Kaudy returned on Monday from Duluth, having spent a week past up in the iron country. He reports that business is good up in that country and that he secured a lot of new work for the Kaudy Mfg. Co.

John Hammer, who has been employed in a printing office at Barnboro for several months, spent Saturday in the city visiting with his parents before leaving for Oconomowoc where he will learn to operate a linotype.

Mrs. Archie McMillan returned on Wednesday from Pine River, where she had been spending a couple of weeks with her aged father, who was quite sick. Recent advices from there, however, state that the old gentleman is considerably better.

—Very profitable food for thought will be found in this week's ad of the First National Bank. Those receiving a salary at stated times, can make themselves independent, financially, by availing themselves of the facilities offered by the bank, and it doesn't require a large salary either.

W. H. Guilford, principal of the Nekoosa school, has announced his candidacy for the office of county superintendent which is voted on at the next spring election. At this time no other announcements have been made, so it is not known whether there will be any other aspirants for the office or not.

THROUGH BELGIUM AND UP THE RHINE

Thursday, July 11
By M. H. Jackson

Look on your map of Europe. Our train has just stopped at Charleroi in Belgium. Thirty miles north of us is Belgium's capital, where the Duke of Wellington concentrated his forces to oppose the march of the French armies, and here where we are now in the place selected by Napoleon for his base of operations. Twenty miles north of us is the great battle ground of Waterloo.

Napoleon chose the battle ground and maneuvered his troops so as to bring on the engagement there. At Liege, a few miles northeast of us were stationed the German forces under the veteran Blucher. We shall soon pass through the station at Liege.

A few small skirmishes brought on the engagement with Blucher first, resulting in the repulse of the German forces. Blucher retreated toward Liege, but before reaching that point, suddenly changed his line of march and turned northward to cooperate with Wellington. Napoleon dispatched troops to head off this movement, but those to whom he entrusted this work, failed to accomplish it.

Pushing straight north from here Napoleon met Wellington at Waterloo. You know the story. Grouchy failed to reinforce Napoleon at the critical moment, while Blucher was allowed to join Wellington in administering that crushing blow to the French army. It was a timely victory, and we are of course glad that the hand of Napoleon was stayed, but—well he was beaten.

This morning we left Paris at an early hour, and we shall camp at Gobelin on the banks of the German Rhine this evening. We left Paris because we could not bring Paris with us. Our stay of eight days there has been a delightful experience, one that we shall not soon forget. As a fitting conclusion to our visit there, I was enabled last night to see a tremendous Paris. Strong and tall turned out to greet the King and Queen of Belgium who will visit Paris during the French national holiday, July 14. One thousand cavalry and a thousand infantry under the command of his excellency the Duke of Brabant, who has been employed in Concordia along the route to be traveled by the guests, and in the great concert where the guillotine used to stand along the streets adjacent to it, fully thirty thousand French people waited patiently and expectantly. I saw again, "Le bruit est lauf wie ist." "Das Ich se trauring bin."

We are approaching the Lorelei rock. The river is very swift. The water fairly boils as it rounds the curve in the river where the rock stands. We can readily see that "Der Schiller im Kloster Schiller" would really be in great danger were he to keep his eyes "blau" in die hoh." "Ich glaube die Wellen verschlingen mi und Schiller und ich." "Und das hat mit ihm schien die Lorelei gotten." Those are singing:

"Ich weiss nicht was soll es bedeuten,
Dass Ich se trauring bin."

We are approaching the Lorelei rock. The river is very swift. The water fairly boils as it rounds the curve in the river where the rock stands. We can readily see that "Der Schiller im Kloster Schiller" would really be in great danger were he to keep his eyes "blau" in die hoh." "Ich glaube die Wellen verschlingen mi und Schiller und ich." "Und das hat mit ihm schien die Lorelei gotten."

People are crowding forward on the boat deck. I wonder what it means. They are singing:

"Zum Rhein, zum Rhein, zum Rhein,

Tomorrow we shall sail up the Rhine as far as Bingen. We shall see the great rock from which the Lorelei sang her beautiful music, and we shall see the "Maus Tower" on a rocky island in the river. I may tell you the story later.

Well, our baggage is all found satisfactory after only a half hour's delay and we are on our way again. Yesterday during one of our river trips our boat was obliged to take the center and higher anchor of the bridges spanning the river and the water was rising rapidly when we left.

While I have been writing, our train has fast been approaching the boundaries of Germany and here we are now at Erquelinnes on the border, where our baggage must again be inspected by custom house officials. We are impatient at the delay, for the Rhine is not far ahead. We are already singing

"Zum Rhein, zum Rhein, zum Rhein,"

Tomorrow we shall sail up the Rhine as far as Bingen. We shall see the great rock from which the Lorelei sang her beautiful music, and we shall see the "Maus Tower" on a rocky island in the river. I may tell you the story later.

Well, our baggage is all found satisfactory after only a half hour's delay and we are on our way again. Yesterday during one of our river trips our boat was obliged to take the center and higher anchor of the bridges spanning the river and the water was rising rapidly when we left.

Now our Savings Department is conducted in a way to help you over just such times, or a spell of sickness, without getting you under obligations to anyone.

We have helped many others, let us help you.

Factory Closed For Thirty Days

Suppose that when you go to work next Monday morning you should be confronted with a sign like the above heading, would you be prepared to live as usual without going in debt?

Now our Savings Department is conducted in a way to help you over just such times, or a spell of sickness, without getting you under obligations to anyone.

Of course we all buy some perfume here at Cologne.

A short ride brings us to Coblenz, and our army enters the city without resistance, although just across the Rhine from our hotel is the Gibraltar of Germany, a fortress built on a rock four hundred feet above the river. This fortress is now garrisoned by five thousand men, and it will accommodate 100,000 men. It can be provisioned for eight years for a force of 100,000. The name of this fort is Ehrenbreitstein. Have you ever seen

"Ehren am Rheine"? A long pontoon,—a bridge of boats is thrown across the Rhine at Coblenz.

It is late and I am tired so I go at once to my room. A slow elevator takes me to the roof or nearly there and I follow the guide with a tallow candle through some winding halls into a front room facing the beautiful Rhine river just across the road and there I fall asleep with the music of the water in my ears.

In the morning our boat is waiting at 7 o'clock so we swallow our coffee and hardtack and go on board the "Lord of the Rhine" for our trip up the "castled Rhine."

Germany is one great battle ground, for a long way back we have been counting castles and watch-towers on most of the highest hills we have passed. It is no wonder that the German people are patriotic. It is no wonder that they love the "Vater Land." So much blood has been spilled in guarding her borders that the Germans have a right to love her.

"Fest, peat and tree dry Wacht Die Wacht am Rhein."

The whistle has blown and we are off. Three sections of the pontoon bridge are loosened and float down stream with one end attached allowing us to pass through and on up the river. We rub our eyes again to make sure that we are awake. We have run of the German Rhine so long and have full of spell woven so deeply into much of our history and literature, even reaching back to medieval times, that we can not yet believe that we are really here. We sing again, "Es braut ein Ruf wie Donnerhall." Old Ehrenbreitstein bows down upon us as we pass, but these insides know that we are unarmored and who are allowed to go on.

You have read descriptions of the Rhine banks, so I shall not weary you much as I should like to write about them. We pass the ruins of castles and watch towers, so many of them that we try to pick out only those with a history. This is a rugged country, rocks and mountains line the stream. Step difficulties rise from the water's edge. At times the mountains rise so high in the distance that we can hardly see the buildings of those most quaint little German villages along the Rhine banks.

On the sloping banks, as steep as house roofs rising hundreds of feet above the level of the Rhine planted wherever a little soil can be found, are the famous Rhine vineyards. The peasants are at work in them now. One would think they might need stonings to keep them from sliding off into the Rhine. Many of those sloping vineyards are inclined at an angle of fully 45 degrees from the horizontal.

People are crowding forward on the boat deck. I wonder what it means. They are singing:

"Ich weiss nicht was soll es bedeuten,
Dass Ich se trauring bin."

We are approaching the Lorelei rock. The river is very swift. The water fairly boils

LOCAL ITEMS.

Stanley Sodlon departed on Friday for Madison to enter the university.

Mrs. Severt Johnson visited with relatives in Cranmoor over Sunday.

Warren Fisher spent the past week in Wild Rose visiting with relatives.

A twelve pound girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Baldwin on Friday.

Eli Crotteau of Marshfield was a business visitor in the city on Monday.

Louis Lyonska departed on Sunday for a week's visit with relatives in Green Bay.

Albert Benson purchased a home on 7th street last week of Adolph Pauter. Consideration $1500.

Ed Kruger of Cranmoor was in the city on Saturday attending to some business matters.

Mrs. Anna Meurer returned on Saturday from a month's visit with relatives in Canada.

-Don't be fooled. H. W. Barker's Cough Remedy made at Sparta cures Johnson & Hill Co.

W. A. Brazeau spent several days in the city last week visiting with relatives and friends.

Will Garhart broke his collar bone on Thursday by being thrown from his motor cycle while riding.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Garhart have been spending the past week in La Crosse visiting with relatives.

Mrs. Frank Smith, who has been visiting her relatives in Chicago for a month past, returned home on Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Mazur left last Wednesday for Chicago where she expects to visit with relatives for a couple of weeks.

George Shearier and son Clarence of the town of Grand Rapids were pleasant callers at this office on Saturday.

Tom Schultz of Milwaukee spent several days in the city the past week visiting at the home of his uncle, Chas. Fandrich.

Miss Olga Schreiber departed on Thursday for Milwaukee where she has accepted a position as saleslady in a millinery store.

Hansford Gisolt arrived home from Washington to spend a six week vacation visiting with his friends and relatives.

Mrs. A. C. Otto and Miss Addie Skad were in Bancroft last week to attend the wedding of C. B. Mettice and Miss Emma Daherto.

Adolph Punkow, editor of the Marshfield Democrat, was in the city for a few hours on Saturday looking after some business matters.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet next Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. A. McDonald. Election of officers.

Miss Emma Swain returned to La Crosse Saturday after spending a week in the city visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Swain.

Andrew Clavin of Minn., was in the city on Thursday and Friday of last week visiting with friends. The Tribune acknowledges a pleasant call.

Horbert Wissow, one of the hustling young farmers of the town of Sigel, favored this office with a pleasant call on Saturday while in the city on business.

Chas. Klyvone, secretary of the Sonnen, Sigel & Rudolph Mutual Fire Insurance Co. was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday while in the city on business.

FOR SALE:—The Halverson home on Elm St. New, elegantly finished. Has electric lights, sewer, water, bath. See owner or J. H. Liedner, Phone 417.

Rev. Peterson of Ephraim has been in the city the past week the guest of Rev. H. B. Johnson. Rev. Peterson was formerly pastor of the German Moravian church in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Poyrus are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl at their home last week. Mrs. Poyrus was quite sick for several days but has since materially improved in health.

Ed Daly of Ellington, S. D., was in the city Saturday visiting his friends, having come here with his mother, Mrs. John Daly, who had been visiting him at Ellington. Mr. Daly returned to his home on Sunday.

O. W. Dodge spent several days in this city the past week visiting his family and attending to some business matters. Mr. Dodge has been out at Spokane where he is interested in a new paper mill that will be built there.

G. J. Kandy returned on Monday from Duluth, having spent a week up in the iron country. He reports that business is good up in that country and that he secured a lot of new work for the Kandy Mfg. Co.

John Hammer, who has been employed in a printing office at Baraboo for several months, spent Saturday in the city visiting with his parents before leaving for Economoowoc where he will learn to operate a linotype.

Mrs. Archie McMillan returned on Wednesday from Pine River, where she had been spending a couple of weeks with her aged father, who was quite sick. Recent advice from there, however, state that the old gentleman is considerably better.

Very profitable food for thought will be found in this week's ad of the First National Bank. Those receiving a salary at stated times, can make themselves independent, financially, by availing themselves of the facilities offered by the bank, and it doesn't require a large salary either.

W. H. Guilford, principal of the Nekoosa school, has announced his candidacy for the office of county superintendent which is voted on at the next spring election. At this time no other announcements have been made, so it is not known whether there will be any other aspirants for the office or not.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Miller on Thursday.

Mrs. J. E. Schubel and children are visiting with relatives in Neenah this week.

Mrs. F. P. Daly left on Sunday night for Chicago to be absent a few days on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred LaBrot spent Sunday in Aldorf visiting at the Fred Beusch home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dolan spent Sunday at Waunak visiting at the Dan McKercher home.

Miss Fern Slattery of Sturgeon Bay has been visiting relatives and friends in this city during the past week.

M. Weeks, G. F. Keddie, and Sam Church left Tuesday morning for Milwaukee to attend the automobile races.

Mrs. Hattie Brandon and grandson, Chas. Huntley of Winona, Minn., are guests at the J. J. Paterick home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gotzloff and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eberhardt spent Sunday in Amherst visiting with relatives.

Mrs. Ed. Fahy and Miss Agnes Nash departed on Monday for a visit with relatives in Chicago and Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mrs. Edward Lynch returned on Saturday from Tomahawk where she had been visiting with friends during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Neitzel returned the past week from a three weeks visit at the Chas. Appel home in the town of Sonoma.

Mrs. L. P. Wollenschlaeger visited friends and relatives in Stevens Point several days last week. She returned home on Thursday.

Julius Mathews of the town of Sigel returned on Thursday from a two weeks visit with relatives in Milwaukee, Chicago and Hammond, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fay returned on Monday from Sturgeon Bay where they had been spending a week with their daughter, Mrs. H. R. Ishwood.

Ernest McFarland has been a trifle under the weather as the result of a slight cold. Mr. McFarland resumes his studies at the University this week.

Alex Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jones, who has been employed in the east the past year, will enter Columbian College next month to take up the study of law.

Carl and Floyd Palmer of Fond du Lac spent last week in this city, having been called here to attend the funeral of their father. They departed for their home on Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. M. B. Milne entertained a party of young people of the Baptist church on Friday evening. The evening was spent in music and games and a very pleasant time was the result.

Harry Webb of New Rome and Paul Smith of this city returned on Saturday from South Dakota, where they spent the past two months in the vicinity of Timber Lake working at their trade.

Mrs. F. M. Billmyre left on Tuesday for Fort Frances, Ontario, where the family expect to make their home provided they like it there. Mr. Billmyre has been at Fort Frances for several weeks past, being employed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daulley returned on Friday from Berlin where they had been in attendance at the county fair. They were accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Drayton, who visited for a few days in this city.

Mrs. Robert Pagel departed on Thursday for Milwaukee where she is to join her husband, who has accepted a position as cabinet maker in a table factory. They have rented their home on Grant street and expect to spend the winter there.

Rob Nash expects to leave this week for Paris, France, to look after some business matters over in that country. Before returning Mr. Nash expects also to visit Belgium, Germany and Italy, and will probably put in about three months in the old country.

Miss Clara M. Johnson, in writing from North Yakima, Wash., to renew her subscription to the Tribune, states that her sister Emma and herself have been engaged to teach in the same school again the coming year, Miss Clara being principal of one of the graded schools. She also states that Dick Scheibl has sold his ranch in the Moose valley and has taken charge of the Pacific Hotel, one of the largest and best hosteries of North Yakima.

Ed Daly of Ellington, S. D., was in the city Saturday visiting his friends, having come here with his mother, Mrs. John Daly, who had been visiting him at Ellington. Mr. Daly returned to his home on Sunday.

O. W. Dodge spent several days in this city the past week visiting his family and attending to some business matters. Mr. Dodge has been out at Spokane where he is interested in a new paper mill that will be built there.

G. J. Kandy returned on Monday from Duluth, having spent a week up in the iron country. He reports that business is good up in that country and that he secured a lot of new work for the Kandy Mfg. Co.

John Hammer, who has been employed in a printing office at Baraboo for several months, spent Saturday in the city visiting with his parents before leaving for Economoowoc where he will learn to operate a linotype.

Mrs. Archie McMillan returned on Wednesday from Pine River, where she had been spending a couple of weeks with her aged father, who was quite sick. Recent advice from there, however, state that the old gentleman is considerably better.

Very profitable food for thought will be found in this week's ad of the First National Bank. Those receiving a salary at stated times, can make themselves independent, financially, by availing themselves of the facilities offered by the bank, and it doesn't require a large salary either.

First National Bank
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin
The bank that does things for you.

THROUGH BELGIUM AND UP THE RHINE

Thursday, July 14
By M. H. Jackson

Look on your map of Europe. Our train has just stopped at Charleroi in Belgium. Thirty miles north of us is Belgium's capital, where the Duke of Wellington concentrated his forces to oppose the march of the French armies, and here where we are now is the place selected by Napoleon for his base of operations. Twenty miles north of us is the great battle-ground of Waterloo.

Napoleon chose the battle ground and maneuvered his troops so as to bring on the engagement there. At Liege, a few miles northeast of us were stationed the German forces under the veteran Blucher. We shall soon pass through the station at Liege.

A few small skirmishes brought on the engagement with Blucher first, resulting in the repulse of the German forces. Blucher retreated toward Liege, but before reaching that point, suddenly changed his line of march and turned northward to cooperate with Wellington. Napoleon dispatched troops to head off this movement, but those to whom he entrusted this work, failed to accomplish it.

Pushing straight north from here Napoleon met Wellington at Waterloo. You knew the story. Grouchy failed to reinforce Napoleon at the critical moment, while Blucher was allowed to join Wellington in administering that crushing blow to the French army. It was a timely victory, and we are of course glad that the hand of Napoleon was stayed, but—well he was beaten.

This morning we left Paris at an early hour, and we shall camp at Coblenz on the banks of the German Rhine this evening. We left Paris because we could not bring Paris with us. Our stay of eight days there has been a delightful experience, one that we shall not soon forget.

As a fitting climax to our visit there, I was sumbled last night to see a tremendous Paris throng that had turned out to greet the King and Queen of Belgium who will visit Paris during the French national holiday, July 14. One thousand cavalry and a thousand infantry lined the Champs Elysees and Place de la Concorde along the route to be traveled by the guests. In the great court where the guillotine used to stand along the streets adjacent to it, fully thirty thousand French people waited patiently and expectantly. I saw the King and Queen and also the President of the French Republic, but I confess to a great deal more interest in the crowd than in royalty or the president of France.

With the movement of the troops and the massing of the citizens I seemed to see the scenes of other days, but instead of a howling blood-thirsty Parisian mob, here was a vast throng doing honor to royal guests, and shouting "Vive la Republique," "Vive la France," "Vive le President." Then they shouted "Vive" to the guests, but their hearts are with France.

We left Paris early this morning, and well before we started the streets were being swept and scrubbed which is a daily task in Paris. A cleaner city or one more beautiful does not exist.

The Seine River is rising again and we are all hoping that Paris is not to endure another flood. Yesterday during one of our river trips our boat was obliged to take the center and higher arches of the bridge spanning the river and the water was rising rapidly when we left.

While I have been writing, our train has fast been approaching the boundaries of Germany and here we are now at Bregenzer on the border, where our baggage must again be inspected by customs house officials. We are impatient at the delay, for the Rhine is not far ahead. We are already singing

"Zum Rhein, zum Rhein, zum deutschen Rhein."

Tomorrow we shall sail up the Rhine as far as Bingen. We shall see the great rock from which the Lorelei sang her beautiful music, and we shall see the "Maus Tower" on a rocky island in the river. I may tell you the story later.

Well, our baggage is all found satisfactory after only a half hour's delay and we are on our way again. We see very few farm houses. The farmers all along the route from Paris live in little villages and go out to their farms in the morning returning in the evening. We see such old fashioned machinery, and the farms are very small. They are carefully tilled, however, and large crops are raised from very small "farms." We have seen hundreds of acres of sugar beets. Sugar making is getting to be a leading industry in Germany.

People are not leaving Germany as they used to do. The country is much more prosperous than it once was. Its population is increasing now at the rate of about 800,000 a year. At that rate there will come a time again when many will have to leave, but now Germany is supporting her increasing population.

We have just passed through Aix la Chapelle and Darmstadt. How many familiar names there are! Colossal! We stop here and shall stay about two hours. The magnificent cathedral is only a block from the depot and we hurry over to it. The twin-spires are 520 feet high. The building is one of the finest ever built. It is of pure Gothic architecture and cost nearly $5,000,000. I wish I could describe it in a brief letter, but that is impossible.

Of course we all buy some perfume here at Cologne.

A short ride brings us to Coblenz, and our army enters the city without resistance. Although just across the Rhine from our hotel is the Gibralter of Germany, a fortress built on a rock four hundred feet above the river. This fortress is now garrisoned by fully five thousand men, and it will accommodate 100,000 men. It can be provisioned for eight years for a force of 10,000. The name of this fort is Ehrenbreitstein. Have you ever sung

"Ehren auf der Rhine"? A long pontoon—a bridge of boats is thrown across the Rhine at Coblenz.

It is late and I am tired so I go at once to my room. A slow elevator takes me to the roof or nearly there and I follow the guide with a tallow candle through some winding halls into a front room facing the beautiful Rhine river just across the road and there I fall asleep with the music of the water in my ears.

In the morning our boat is waiting at 7 o'clock so we swallow our coffee andhardtack and go on board the "Lorraine" for our trip up the "castled Rhine."

Germany is one great battle ground, for a long way back we have been counting castles and watch-towers on most of the highest hills we have passed. It is no wonder that the German people are patriotic. It is no wonder that we love the "Vaterland." So much blood has been spilled in guarding her borders that the Germans have a right to love her.

"Fest, steh und treu die Wacht, Die Wacht am Rhein!"

The whistle has blown and we are off. Three sections of the pontoon bridge are loosened and float down stream with one end attached allowing us to pass through and on up the river. We rub our eyes again to make sure that we are awake. We have read of the German Rhine so long and have felt its spell woven so deeply into much of our history and literature even reaching back to medieval times, that we can yet believe that we are alive here. We believe again: "Es braust ein Ruf wie Donnergroll." Old Ehrenbreitstein frowns down upon us as we pass, but those inside know that we are unarmed and we are allowed to go on.

You have read descriptions of the Rhine banks, so I shall not weary you, much as I should like to write about them. We pass the ruins of castles and watch towers, so many of them that we try to pick out only those with a history. This is a rugged country. Rocks and mountains line the stream. Sheep declivities rise from the water's edge. At times the mountains recede a little to admit of the building of these neat quaint little German villages along the Rhine banks.

On the sloping banks, as steep as a house roof rising hundreds of feet above the level of the Rhine planted wherever a little soil can be found, are the famous Rhine vineyards. The peasants are at work in them now. One would think they might need stings to keep them from sliding off into the Rhine. Many of these sloping vineyards are inclined at an angle of fully 45 degrees from the horizontal.

People are crowding forward on the boat's deck. I wonder what it means. They are singing:

"Ich weiss nicht was soll es bedeuten, Das ich so traurig bin."

We are approaching the Lorelei rock. The river is very swift. The water fairly boils as it rounds the curve in the river where the rock stands. We can readily see that

"Der Schiffer im kleinen Schiffe" would really be in great danger were he to keep his eyes "hinunter in die boehn," and "Ich glaube die Wellen verschlingen am ende Schiffer und Kan." "Und das hat mit ihnen singen dio Lorelei gethan."

Many stories are connected with this stretch of the Rhine. Among them perhaps most interesting to children is the story of the Maus Tower opposite Bingen. Here is the tower now. Do you know the story? We shall soon land at Bingen after one of the most delightful trips we have ever enjoyed.

Heidelberg will be our next stop. Heidelberg is the seat of the oldest university in Germany. In 1883 this university celebrated its 500th anniversary. We shall also see the feudal castle built so long ago and still in a good state of preservation. There is something else that we may see at Heidelberg. Friday is "duel day," and we are

Don't Persecute your Bowels

Cat-cathartics and purgatives. They are broad bands—stomachic. They are broad CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
Pure vegetable. A gently on the liver, stomach, bowels, and other organs. The members of the Carter's Little Liver Pill Company are
Sick headache and indigestion, as millions know.
Small Pill, Small Dose, Small Price
Genuine number. Signature

Breath Good

A HOMESTEAD

Do you want a Land Homestead? Information sent free. How to get a Farm or Land
The COLONY OF HOMESTEAD, AMERICA
Board of Trade Building, Indianapolis, Indiana

PATENTS

Watson E. Coleman, Washington, D. C.—"A woman who has invented a new process for extracting oil from coconuts. Just received

MISSOURI FARMS, Inc., 600 S. 6th St., St. Louis, Mo.—"A method of growing onions which is described as a revolution. Just received

PATENTS

Trade Marks and Copyrights
of Inventors Who Deserve RECOGNITION. M. W. RUTHER, President, Inc.

LYNN COUNTY, KANSAS, LAND OWNERS, TENNESSEE, TEXAS, AND OTHER PLACES
TO INVEST IN. A. E. Root, Pleasanton, Kan.

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 39-1910.

WARNING THAT WAS FAMILIAR

Grocer Man Used Formula That Made Little Harry Long to Be Far Away.

Mrs. Jones' favorite warning to her young progeny when they were in mischief was that she would send them in a minute. "Teeling" was accomplished by applying the open hand where it would do most good. When Harry was four years old he was sent for the first time round the corner to the grocery. In a few minutes he came trudging soberly back with the nickel still in his hand, but no bag of onions.
"What's the matter?" asked his mother.

"I'm afraid of the man," he said, falteringly.

"Oh, he won't hurt you," remonstrated Mrs. Jones: "Run along and bring the onions. I'm a hurry for them."

A second time Harry disappeared round the corner, and a second time returned without his purchase.

"I'm afraid of the grocer man," he explained, as before.

"Well, what makes you afraid of him?" demanded his mother, impatiently.

"Why," answered the little fellow,
"both times when I go to him, he looks at me, and 'I'll send you in a minute!'"—
"Youth's Companion.

A TIMELY WARNING.

Backache, headaches, dizzy spells and distressing urinary troubles warn you of dropsy, diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. Act in time by curing the kidneys with Donn's Kidney Pills.
They have cured thousands and will cure you.

Mrs. Frances Collins, nurse, Box 30, Rockville, Mo., says:
"For 30 years I suffered from kidney trouble. I had back pains and was bothered by dizziness. I became tired easily and was very nervous.
The kidney secretions also proved annoying. Donn's Kidney Pills helped me promptly. They have my highest recommendation."

Remember the name—Donn's.

For sale by all dealers, 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Public Want Ads.

Wanted—Several nice old gentlemen to represent us financially. Not ing to do but utter wise remarks and endorse dividend checks. Good wages from fifty to one hundred millions a year.

Wanted—A financier who will guarantee to keep us supplied with half college and half-burdens while we supply the other halves. No expense required. Good rake-off.

Wanted—At once. A large number of stockholders to take charge of our food supply and keep us eating too much. No regular hours. Palm Beach in winter. Adirondacks in summer.

Wanted—A few select persons to represent us socially and do the things we haven't time for. No brutes needed. All expenses paid. No worry.

—Success.

Perfectly Harmless.

A little girl of three years, whose father had bought her some firecrackers and sky rockets for the Fourth of July, wanted to know what they were for. On being told their purpose, she anxiously inquired if they would hurt anybody. When told they would not, she seemed relieved, and that night,
when saying her prayers, she added:

"An', Dad, don't be 'fraid of dem poppin' things when zeys make a noise tomorrow, 'cause zeys won't hurt 'oo."

Taken at His Word.

"Since you are so busy today," said the urbane journalist, "will you kindly tell me when and where I can meet you for an interview?"

"Go to blazes!" exclaimed the irate politician.

"Thanks. I'll consider it an appointment."

Let Us Cook Your Breakfast!

Serve

Post Toasties

with cream or milk

and notice the pleasure the family finds in the appetizing crispness and flavour of this delightful food.

"The Memory Lingers"

Foster Cereal Co., Ltd.

Belle Creek, Mich.

BUSTED IN CHICAGO

Hundreds Daily Shuffle Through Streets Without Money or Friends.

Young Hoosier Lad Leaves Small Town to Answer Advertisement of Employment Agency—Is Duped and Robbed of Coin.

In Chicago penniless and without a fob.

Were you ever in such circumstances?

Probably not, but every day see hundreds of your fellows who are. The other day Walter Summers, a lad of only 17, food looking and apparently fairly well educated, shuffled into the Desplaines street police station.

The lad, tired and broken in spirit, sat down in a chair.

"Say, the hell heckled blindy," however he is to Wabash avenue?"

"About a mile," was the reply.

"About a mile, eh? Gee, I wish I had a dollar for every mile I've been today. I could buy some regular food and have enough left to get cleaned up and pay my railroad fare home."

"Where is your home?" was asked.

"Evansville."

"Indiana?"

"Yes."

And then the third boy told his story.

"I had a job in West Salem, Wis.," he said, "and I was getting along pretty well. I had a few dollars saved up and thought I was satisfied. I saw an advertisement in a pamphlet up there telling how easy it was to make money in Chicago. The ad was signed by an employment agency. All I had to do was to give the agency $2 and it would ship you to Chicago, where a job would be waiting you. It sounded like, so I thought I'd try it."

"I gave my $2 to the agency and took the rest of my money with me.
I was shipped about fifteen other fellows."

"When I got to Chicago I went to the place where the agency had told me I could find a job. The address which they had given me I found was a swamp—out that way somewhere, and the boy pointed toward the southwest side.

"Then I saw that I had been 'bunked.'
The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

THE FIRST WIRELESS TELEGRAPH INSTRUMENT EVER USED ON AN AEROPLANE

THE OUTCAST GYPSY

Now the Modern Ishmael Among Civilized Nations.

England and the United States Now Turned Against Them—Efforts to Induce Them to Settle Down Unavailing.

Washington.—Everywhere through out the civilized world the hand of mankind seems to be raised against the gypsies. The last two refuges to which they took themselves—the United States and England—have set their faces against them. Hereafter in England they are to be treated like common vagrants, without visible means of support, while in the United States the immigration laws serve to debar them alike and dangerous nomads.

France decided some years ago that the gypsy was a public menace and, in the summary fashion of the republic, when it makes up its mind to a thing, expelled him as relentlessly as it has expelled the monks.

Germany, which is a grim manufacturing establishment, after all, simply ordered its thousands of gypsies along its bayonetted border to turn back every gypsy who showed his nose
at the line.

Wretched and perplexed, the Romani
moved on to Belgium; but hostile bayonets met them there. Desperate, for they hate water like so many wildcats, they took to the canals of placid Holland. But the phlegmatic Dutchmen, every tradition of their plodding industry outraged at sight of the gay wanderers, drove them out again.

Meanwhile, the Balkans, where the gypsies have roamed as free as any other bird of prey, have begun to feel the call of settled prosperity—if Balkan politics will ever give agriculture its chance—that attends the lowing
kine and the importation of American rams and blenders. Sheep stealm-ers and horse偷窃者 are impressing
the fiery-souled mountaineers less than they used to, and the bars are being steadily raised against the gypsy, on the ground that he is a common tramp, who contributes nothing to the country and deserves
nothing from it.

Transylvania, time out of mind, has been the gypsy's native birth. The hills and caves let him live the life of the early troglodyte, and the industrious
among the population afford him sustenance. But all Romany are sold throughout the world.
Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole proprietors, Boston, Mass. Send to them for the latest Cuticura Book, an authority on the best care of the skin,
scalp, hair and hands. It is mailed
free on request.

FOR THE SKIN AND SCALP

Because of its delicate, emollient, sanative, antiseptic properties derived from Cuticura Ointment, united with the purest of cleansing ingredients and most refreshing of flower odors, Cuticura Soap is unrivaled for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair and hands, and, as assisted by Cuticura Ointment, for dispelling itching irritation and inflammation of the pores, the cause of many distressing facial eruptions. All who delight in a clean, wholesome scalp and lice-free, glossy hair, will find that Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment realize every expectation. Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world.

Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge.

MEET IN CONGRESS AT ROME

International Gathering of Fees of Tuberculosis to Be Held Late in September.

Official announcement of the eighth international congress on Tuberculosis, which will include representatives from every civilized country in the world, has been made by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. The congress will be held in Rome from September 24 to 30, 1913, and will be similar in many respects to that held in Washington in the fall of 1908. The congress, which meets every three years, will be under the direct patronage of the king and queen of Italy.

An American committee of 100 will be appointed as the official representatives of the United States. Meanwhile the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis is acting in that capacity and its office in New York will be the headquarters for the United States delegation. The secretary general of the congress is Prof. Vittorio Ascoli of Rome.

As a direct result of the stimulus of the last international congress held in this country, the American committee will be able to report that the number of tuberculosis agencies in this country have increased nearly fourfold.

Germany, which is a grim manufacturing establishment, after all, simply ordered its thousands of gypsies along
its bayonetted border to turn back
every gypsy who showed his nose
at the line.

Wretched and perplexed, the Romani
moved on to Belgium; but hostile
bayonets met them there. Desperate,
for they hate water like so many wildcats, they took to the canals of placid Holland. But the phlegmatic
Dutchmen, every tradition of their
plodding industry outraged at sight
of the gay wanderers, drove them out again.

Meanwhile, the Balkans, where the gypsies have roamed as free as any other bird of prey, have begun to feel
the call of settled prosperity—if Balkan politics will ever give agriculture its chance—that attends the lowing
kine and the importation of American rams and blenders. Sheep stealm-
ers and horse偷窃者 are impressing
the fiery-souled mountaineers less than they used to, and the bars are being steadily raised against
the gypsy, on the ground that he is a common tramp, who contributes nothing to the country and deserves
nothing from it.

Transylvania, time out of mind, has been the gypsy's native birth. The hills and caves let him live the life of the early troglodyte, and the industrious
among the population afford him sustenance. But all Romany are sold throughout the world.
Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole proprietors, Boston, Mass. Send to them for the latest Cuticura Book, an authority
on the best care of the skin,
scalp, hair and hands. It is mailed
free on request.

Attention Sick Women

If you had positive proof that a certain remedy for female ills had made many remarkable cures, would you not feel like trying it?

If during the last thirty years we have not succeeded in convincing every fair-minded woman that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands and thousands of women the ills peculiar to their sex, then we mean long for an opportunity to do so by direct correspondence.
Meanwhile read the following letters which we guarantee to be genuine and truthful.

Hudson, Ohio.—"I suffered for a long time from a weakness, inflammation, dreadful pains such month and suspension. I had been doctoring and receiving only temporary relief, when a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and wrote to you for advice. I have faithfully followed your directions and now, after taking only five bottles of the Vegetable Compound, I have every reason to believe I am a well woman. I give you full permission to use my testimonial."

—Mrs. Lena Carmichael, Hudson, Ohio. E. F. D. No. 7.

St. Regis Falls, N. Y.—"Two years ago I was so bad that I had to take to my bed every month, and it would last from two to three weeks. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
I did so, and wrote to you for advice. I have faithfully followed your directions and now, after taking only five bottles of the Vegetable Compound, I have every reason to believe I am a well woman. I give you full permission to use my testimonial."

—Mrs. Lena Carmichael, Hudson, Ohio. E. F. D. No. 7.

There is absolutely no doubt about the ability of this grand old remedy, made from the roots and herbs of our fields, to cure female diseases. We possess volumes of proof of this fact, enough to convince the most skeptical.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

—Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge.

Address Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

SPONH MEDICAL CO., Chiropractors and Bacteriologists, GOSHEN, IND., U. S. A.

AXLE GREASE

Pink Eye, Ep

Don't Persecute your Bowels

Cut out bowels and intestines. They are bad —harmless—
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
Painfully, As easily as the skinned lion,
the CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
Sick Headache and Indigestion, as millions know.
Small Pill, Small Dose, Small Price
Genuine Number Signature

Great Food

A HOMESTEAD

Information about a Land Homestead

THE CLOUTY HOMESTEAD COMPANY

Indianapolis, Indiana

Board of Trade Building

PATENTS

Watson E. Collier, Washington, D.C.

Trade Marks and Copyrights

BENEDICTUS, MOHRS & CALDWELL

LYNN COUNTY, KANSAS, LAND GROWERS

EVERYTHING IN THE WAY OF NATURAL AND ARTIFICIAL LAND

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 39-1910.

WARNING THAT WAS FAMILIAR

Grocer Man Used Formula That Made Little Harry Long to Be Far Away.

Mrs. Jones' favorite warning to her young progeny when they were in mischief was that she would tend to them in a minute. "Pending" was accomplished by applying the open hand where it would do most good. When Harry was four years old he was sent for the first time round the corner to the grocery. In a few minutes he came trotting soberly back with the nickel still in his hand, but no bag of onions. "What's the matter?" asked his mother.

"I'm afraid of the man," he said, solemnly.

"Oh, he won't hurt you," reassured Mrs. Jones. "Run along and bring the onions. I'm in a hurry for them."

A second time Harry disappeared round the corner, and a second time returned without his purchase.

"I'm afraid of the grocer man," he explained, as before.

"Well, what makes you afraid of him?" demanded his mother, impatiently.

"Why?" answered the little fellow, "both times when I went in, he looked at me, and said, 'I'll tend to you in a minute,'"—Youthful Companion.

A TIMELY WARNING.

Backache, headaches, dizzy spells and distressing urinary troubles warn you of dropsy, diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. Act in time by curing the kidney with Dean's Kidney Pills. They have cured thousands and will cure you.

Mrs. Frances Collins, nurse, Box 30, Booneville, Mo., says: "For 30 years I suffered from kidney trouble. I had back pains and was bothered by dizziness. I became tired easily and was very nervous.

The kidney secretions also proved annoying. Dean's Kidney Pills benefited me promptly. They have my highest endorsement."

Remember the name—Dean's.

For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Fester-Millbury Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Public Want Ads.

Wanted—Several nice old gentlemen to represent us financially. Noting to do but utter wise remarks and endorse dividend checks. Good wages, from fifty to one hundred millions a year.

Wanted—A character who will guarantee to keep us supplied with half-cooked and half-baked while we supply the other halves. No expense required. Good rake-off.

Wanted—at once. A large number of stockholders to take charge of our food supply and keep us from eating too much. No regular hours. Palut Beach in winter. Adirondacks in summer.

Wanted—A few select persons to represent us socially and do the things we haven't time for. No brains needed. All expenses paid. No worry. —Success.

Perfectly Harmless.

A little girl of three years, whose father had bought her some firecrackers and skyrockets for the Fourth of July, seemed to know what they were for. On being told their purpose, she anxiously inquired if they would hurt anybody. When told they would not, she seemed relieved, and that night, when saying her prayers, she added: "An' Dad, don't be afraid of zem pony-dings when zey make a noise tomorrow, 'cause zey won't hurt 'oo."

Taken at His Word.

"Since you are so busy today," said the urbane journalist, "will you kindly tell me when and where I can meet you for an interview?"

"Go to blazes!" exclaimed the irate politician.

"Thanks. I'll consider it an appointment."

Let Us Cook Your Breakfast!

Serve Post Toasties

with cream or milk

and notice the pleasure the family finds in the appetizing crispness and flavor of this delightful food.

"The Memory Lingers"

Postum Cereal Co., Ltd.
Battle Creek, Mich.

BUSTED IN CHICAGO

Hundreds Daily Shuffle Through Streets Without Money or Friends.

Young Hooley Lad Leaves Small Town to Answer Advertisement of Employment Agency—is Duped and Robbed of Coin.

In Chicago penniless and without a friend. Were you ever in such circumstances?

Probably not, but every day sees hundreds of your fellow who are. The other day Walter Summers, a lad of only 17 years, good looking and apparently fairly well educated, shuffled about the Desplaines street police station.

The lad, tired and broken in spirit, sat down in a chair.

"Say," the boy asked timidly, "how far is it to Walsh Avenue?"

"About a mile," was the reply.

He smiled half-heartedly.

"About a mile, eh? Gee, I wish I had a dollar for every mile I've walked today. I could buy some regular food and have enough left to get cleaned up and pay my railroad fare home."

"Where is your home?" was asked.

"Evansville."

"Indiana?"

"Yes."

And then the third boy told his story.

"I had a job in West Salem, Wis."

he said, "and I was getting along pretty well. I had a few dollars saved up and thought I was satisfied. I saw an advertisement in a pamphlet up there, telling how easy it was to make money in Chicago. The ad was signed by an employment agency. All you had to do was to give the agency the address and it would ship you to Chicago, where a job would be waiting for you. It sounded fine, so I thought I'd try it."

"I gave my $2 to the agency and took the rest of my money with me. I was shipped with about fifteen other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

The boy paused a minute, looked at his lone auditor and smiled.

"I gave my $2 to the agency and took the rest of my money with me. I was shipped with about fifteen other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

THE FIRST WIRELESS TELEGRAPH INSTRUMENT EVER USED ON AN AEROPLANE

This photograph, the first of its kind, shows the tiny wireless telegraph apparatus designed by H. N. Horton and placed on Glenn H. Curtiss' Aeroplane for sending messages while in flight. Dr. C. F. Everitt of the Signal Corps, N. Y. National Guard is seen sending a message.

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted around for two days, trying to find a job. Twice I was told to call back next week, but that is as close as I've come, so far.

"It was Tuesday when I came to Chicago. The following Sunday night I slept on the dock, down there by the river. There were lots of other fellows there, too. I spread out some papers and lay down on them. When I woke up in the morning I found that some fellow had taken my last $10."

"Then I saw that I had been 'busted.' The agency, I guess, was a fake, or else they had given me the

wrong address by mistake. I thought, though, that I could get a job next day, so I gave a dollar for the room I slept in that night. I hunted

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mrs. A. M. Muir returned on Saturday from a visit with relatives in Winona.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McCamley of Merrill are guests at the Peter McCormick home this week.

Ferdinand Link was called to Watertown last Wednesday by the severe illness of a sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wenzel have returned from a visit at the John Wenzel home in Merrill.

Miss Alena Egger left on Saturday for Madison where she will attend the university during the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ellis have a brand new baby girl at their home, the little stranger arriving last Thursday.

Mail carrier Otto Mickelson is enjoying his annual two weeks vacation, part of which he is spending up river fishing.

Miss Maud White left on Tuesday evening for Merrill where she will spend a few weeks visiting with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Love, accompanied by their granddaughter, Miss Mae Love, spent Sunday in Stevens Point visiting with friends.

J. H. Wright, assistant manager of the Consolidated plant, returned last week from a trip there the east, where he had been on business.

We say by the Waunau Pilot that they want a boy at their office to pump the pipe organ. This is the first time we have over heard it called by that name.

Mrs. Frank Rafferty of Spring Valley, Minn., and Mrs. L. L. Bettinger of Chicago are guests at the home of their sister, Mrs. Thornton Lyon this week.

Nic Gross departed last week for northern Minnesota to look up a timber claim. He will be joined in a short time by Harry Mason who also intends to locate on a claim.

John Burr, Ruth Bennett, Gertude Glens, Leda Potter and Flossie Snyder from this city and vicinity are among those who have enrolled in the Stevens Point Normal this fall.

Prod Damitz and Mrs. Wm. Kruger and little daughter, Evelyn, returned home last Wednesday after spending a few days at Winona visiting with relatives. They also spent a day with their mother who is confined in a hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Plunkett were pleasantly surprised by a number of their friends Tues., eve., the occasion being the celebration of their wooden wedding. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening was spent by the guests.

M. O. Potter of Cranmoor was in the city on Tuesday and reports that he has his crop of cranberries harvested and under cover, he and his son Guy having a total of about 750 barrels. The Misses Potter were not injured any by the frost that occurred on the morning of the 10th instant, having pumped water for some time before, so that when the frost came they had an abundance to protect the crop.

Necrological Republican:—Cortis Bulger, wife and children returned Tuesday from the Pacific Coast, where they had been making a pleasure circuit with Mr. Bulger's troupe of trained goats. About two weeks ago they had the misfortune of losing the goats, all their worries and efforts in a forest fire between Portland and Tacoma, Washington, in which the baggage car and mail car were burned. Mr. Bulger's goats had proved a drawing card wherever they appeared, and he had closed a contract to go to Australia just before the loss of his trained goats. Mr. Bulger takes his loss as a matter of fact and is now in search of more goats which he expects to round out into real performers within the next few months. Trained dogs and horses are common place, but educated goats seem to have an attraction for the amateur loving public, and no doubt Bulger will soon be on the road again with another troupe just as good as the ones lost in the western forest fires.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Congregational church will be entertained at the home of Mrs. John Parrish on Wed. afternoon, Oct. 5. All ladies of the church are cordially invited to attend.

He Met It on the Road.
He didn't wait for prosperity to come. The very minute they told him it was on the road, he said: "Maybe the horses'll get stalled, and the driver all freeze up; so I'll just meet it halfway, and hold the wheels out the mire, and give it a fresh start; then, when it looks like smooth sailing, I'll hop on, and take a seat by the driver, and we'll go whistling into town!"—Athens Constitution.

Ho, Girls!
"Don't be concerned because of your lack of good looks," says a writer. It's the real dope, girls. Take it from us that a freckled, skinny girl with a codfish complexion, who can draft a design for a toothsome mince pie is head and shoulders above the peach-and-cream beauty who don't know a flour sifter from a baseball mask.

Another Good Old Tar Heel Word.
Besides Sampson county, Onslow comes forward as a supplier of Jerusalem oak seed. "The seed, in masses, as an old-time domestic remedy," we are told, "can be swallowed more mellifluously under the name of 'Juzolymate,'"—Charlotte Observer.

Justifying the Laugh.
"When you have the slimmest chance to smile tanto adicto of it," says the Chicago Post. We feel excused after reading this for having smiled yesterday at the skinniest woman we ever saw.

Wall Street Methods.
Church—"I see there is record of wheat growing in China as far back as 3,000 B. C." Gotham—"Can't just tell the record of wheat selling which never grew, I suppose?"—Yonkers Statesman.

KELLNER.

The baseball game last Sunday was supposed to be the last of the season, when the local boys were defeated by a score of 8 to 2 by a so-called Merrill (?) team. On account of the loss of the game, another will be played with the same boys next Sunday if they do not get cold feet like one of the lads did when he "beat" on a shut out game with Mr. Van Gordon. Arthur Fahrner pitched for the visitors. I wonder if Artie's mother knew that he was out.

Meadeans Fred Grey, A. Kruehue and Wm. Witten spent Thursday at the state trout hatchery at Wild Rose. They report it an ideal place to enjoy an outing and anyone who wishes to see nature's great work had better contribute a day to look at and investigate the great sight at that Thursday.

Ferdinand Saenger is able to be up and around again after an illness of several weeks.

Miss Carrie Schulz of Iowa and Mrs. Frank Wagner and daughter Mrs. Henry Helke and daughter, Frank Klein of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Olson, Gassett and Son Leslie spent Sunday with Mrs. A. M. Bass and family.

Miss Ora Lontoshkin spent Sunday with Mrs. Nick Rosenthal.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Seegmeyer of your city visited with the latter's mother on Sunday.

It is reported that Miss E. Rockstrand of your city will teach our school again this year.

Miss Edna Girth of Hancock is visiting at the G. H. Munroe home.

P. S. Grill of your city has the job of decorating the interior of the schoolhouse in District No. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Rosenthal attended a wedding at Radolph last Thursday.

RUDOLPH

Adam Mouras and Miss Pauline Nighbauer were married at the Polish Catholic church in Grand Rapids on Monday morning. After the wedding service a big wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents to a large number of friends and relatives followed by dancing. Both of the contracting parties have a large circle of friends who join in wishing them a successful journey thru life.

Mrs. Tom Reznik of Cranmoor was visiting in this neighborhood a few days last week.

Mrs. Theron Lyon and her sister, Mrs. L. L. Bettinger of Chicago spent Friday at the home of their cousin, John Coulthart.

Mrs. Axel Anderson is on the sick list.

Mrs. Walter Dickson entertained company from Grand Rapids a few days last week.

Ray Conbillard and Jim Bankenbush are drilling a well for Lou Whitman.

Andrew Winger is having his house plastered.

P. Phillips is having his place looked over by several renters.

The Battelle Bros. left here for the western states last week.

Wichita Thorw will be a dance given at Mrs. Davy Taylor's place soon.

Murit Dennisson delivered a couple of large bags to Grand Rapids the other day.

Mike Hill of Carlson has rented the Fred Phillips farm.

Willie Kuter has been looking after P. Phillip's cattle for him.

One of Augus Kath's children died last week with cholera infantum. The child was 4 years old.

Miss Alice Ayer departed last Wednesday evening for Merrill where she will spend a two weeks vacation with her parents.

W. H. Donisthorpe of Grand Rapids is visiting his son, Merritt.

The roller rink is now open here. John Lindahl has just finished clearing up the 90 acres of marsh land owned by D. D. Houw on the Rudolph road. The land was also sowed to timothy. Mr. Lindahl has also taken a contract to clear up a piece of the Lefebvre marsh for L. Nash.

Steth Whittaker has started a milk route in Grand Rapids. The milk is furnished from his father's farm. He reports a good many customers since starting.

Mrs. George McGregor has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Mary Elizabeth to Chas. Keenan which takes place at her residence at two o'clock p. m., October 10th.

SIGEL

There will be a basket social at Peter Olson's home Saturday evening, October 1 for the benefit of the Young People's Society.

A few of the young folks spent Sunday evening at the Emmanuel Krouholm home.

Clara Matthews is reported to be getting better.

J. Mathews returned last Friday from his pleasure trip.

Mrs. Otto Newman has been confined to her bed for the past couple of weeks.

Quite a number of Mrs. Lindahl's friends surprised her last Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served and a good time is reported by all.

Frank Jagodzinski returned last week from the state fair at Milwaukee. He was accompanied by his aunt, Mrs. Frank Krishak and sons Carl and Leo, who are visiting at the John Jagodzinski home.

Not a minute is lost to beat when a child shows symptoms of croup.

Churbert's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the cruddy cough appears, will prevent the attack. Sold by all dealers.

Patience.

Once in a while homes need to be painted places. The children soon realize disappointment; they do not quickly discover their place or find their niche. They must be allowed time and room. In the household, as everywhere else, tynes over the individual must be prodded if there are to be days of progress and contentment.—Woman's Life.

Horse's Small Stomach.

The horse has a smaller stomach in proportion to its size than any other quadruped.

For sale by Centralia Hardware Co.

An Editor's Sermon

The editor of the Jefferson Review in last week's issue of his paper gives the following very emphatic sermon:

"The mother who allows a 17-year-old daughter to float around the township in a biggy until it is with a spirit of weak paw or weaker morals, merely opens the front door to greater and greater sin. If you don't know what company your girl keeps, or what company she sits in, your roisterousness gets busy and sound about as pathetic as a wheeze from a Jew's harp. The girl who insists on spending every sport in the corporate limits ought to be relieved of her overplus of affection with a No. 30 slipper laid barelessly across the hips."

We would see girls in a blind show with a bare wire fence around, have them change partners six nights in a week in the parlor with the lights turned low. It is harder to meet off a girl who has been pawed over by every vag in the community than it is to fatten a sheep on pine apple ice. You can't goldbrick a sharp-eyed suitor with second hand goods any more than you can let a barefooted goat. There are lots of well-intended parents who are going against the judgment day with a much as show as a cross-eyed girl at a beauty show, and their children will rise up and call them blest with the enthusiasm of a long-legged man at a club dance."—Cresswell Chronicle.

Death of Mrs. Zillmer.

Mrs. Wilhelmine Zillmer passed away at the home of her son Gus Zillmer at the south side on Wednesday, Sept. 26th after an illness of several months with cancer. Mrs. Zillmer was 83 years of age and was highly respected by a large circle of friends. She is survived by four children, her husband having died 30 years ago in the old country.

The funeral occurred on Saturday afternoon from the east side Lutheran church, Rev. Mackie officiating and the remains were interred in Forest Hill cemetery.

Good Play.

The play "Paid in Full" presented at the opera house on Wednesday evening was a good one and was thoroughly appreciated by the audience in attendance. The acting was pronounced by all to be as good as any ever seen in this city.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Grunin of the south side on Tuesday, a girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Borslshoff a girl on Friday last.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vaughn on Monday.

Kissing the Dying.

To kiss the dying was long considered a gift of strength to the kisser, and among the Romans the nearest of kin was supposed to kiss the expiring one in order to receive the soul as it escaped the body. To this day the same custom is maintained among the European Jews and at the death of a czar of Russia.—The Smart Set.

GRAND RAPIDS BEER

The ruddy good nature manifest in those who indulge in an occasional good glass of beer, like Grand Rapids Beer, is proverbial. They are good natured because they have gained strength, health and vigor from its use. In striking contrast are the pessimistic coffee or tea drinkers and the optimistic beer drinker.

Try our beer. It is the acme of healthful liquid refreshments.

Grand Rapids brewing Co.

A Home Industry

Phone 177

Sept. 29 Oct. 15
Order Limiting Time to Present Claims and Notices to Creditors.

State of Wisconsin, Wood County, in County Court.

In the matter of the estate of Charles Apfel, late of the town of Sigel in the said county of Wood, deceased.

It is ordered that the sum of $1000.00 be paid to the heirs of Charles Apfel.

It is further ordered that the date from the 10th day and including the 10th day of April, A. D. 1911, be and the same is hereby fixed as the time within which the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

It is further ordered that the heirs of Charles Apfel shall file their claims and demands for compensation and attorney fees.

